House Expected To Quickly OK Ike Resolution

Change by Senate In Measure Seen No Barrier to Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate version of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution was given a "good chance" today of speedy passage by the House.

This word came from House leadership sources as they examined the measure passed by the Senate Tuesday night, 72-19.

The resolution serves notice on the Kremlin that America will fight, if necessary, against Communist attack in the strategic Middle East. And it would give Eisenhower more freedom in spending up to $200 million in military-economic aid to that area between now and July 1.

The House first passed the resolution 3.5-61 on Jan. 30 almost exactly as Eisenhower requested. The Senate put in a number of changes in a lengthy debate which delayed passage for two months after Eisenhower's original urgent request.

On the final Senate vote, 30 Democrats and 42 Republicans were counted for, while 16 Democrats joined Republicans McCarthy (Wis), Jenner (Ind), and Malone (Nev) in opposing.

Secretary of State Dulles gave quick approval to the Senate version, saying "the substance is the same" as in the House bill.

"IT IS NOW clear," Dulles added, "that the Congress of the United States has, by an impressive, non-partisan majority joined with the President to assure the peoples of the free nations in the Middle East that the United States stands ready to join with them to build up their strength and, if need be, help them defend their national integrity and independence against Communist armed aggression."

Normally when the House and Senate disagree on major bills they set up a conference committee to iron out differences. Then they pass a compromise measure. House approval of the Senate version would make that process unnecessary.

House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) said the House leadership has not yet decided whether to ask for a conference with the senators. He did not rule out the possibility however that the House may agree to the Senate version.

A House official informed on the leadership strategy considerations, asking not to be quoted by name, said there is "a good chance" that the decision will be not to press for the House bill.

The House, meeting Eisenhower's request, voted to give him "authority" to use U. S. armed forces if necessary to help a Middle East nation requesting such aid to defend itself against overt Communist aggression.

The Senate voted instead to declare that if the President determines it is necessary, "the United States is prepared to use armed forces" for that purposes.

But the Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) told the Senate Tuesday night that the revised resolution "is a clear and unequivocal warning to the Communist aggressors they must reckon with the United States if they move in the Middle East."

Lausche, Bricker Vote in Favor of Ike's Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Sens. John W. Bricker, Republican, and Frank J. Lausche, Democrat, voted in favor of the Middle East resolution Tuesday night. The Senate passed the measure 72-19.

Both senators earlier voted against two proposed amendments to the resolution. One, proposing to end the program by March 15, 1961, was defeated 58-30.

The other, defeated by a 64-28 vote, would have required the President to give Congress advance notice of his intention to use troops.

Sen. Lausche favored, while Sen. Bricker opposed the Mansfield amendment. The amendment, to furnish U. S. military supplies to United Nations emergency forces in the Middle East, passed 48-43.

Ghana Celebrates Its Independence

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — U. S. Vice President Nixon presented a 2,000-volume technical library to the newly independent government of Ghana today as a symbol of American desire to assist the West African nation.

Nearing the end of a four-day goodwill visit, Nixon offered the library, valued at about $20,000, to Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah in an Independence Day ceremony.

Thousands of rejoicing Ghanians still milled around the capital's streets after nightlong celebrations. Most of the 72 foreign delegations showered gifts on the tiny country which now is an independent nation within the British Commonwealth.

Russia's delegation was reported giving Nkrumah a Soviet transport plane and some automobiles.

Nixon, who leaves Thursday for Liberia to continue his eight-nation Africa tour, also presented Nkrumah with an etched Steuben glass vas depicting the four freedoms of the press, assembly, religion and speech.

The red, gold and green flag of Ghana was run up in midnight ceremonies, replacing the British Union Jack and signifying formally the establishment of the first Negro nation in the British Commonwealth.

Mighty roars of "Freedom! Freedom!" rose from thousands of throats. Brilliant fireworks exploded against the sky and talking drums carried along the word of independence.

"We are no more slaves," Nkrumah told a throng of 50,000 assembled at Accra's polo grounds. "Move about with your chest out."

The new nation, the size of Minnesota with nearly five million Africans, supplies half the world's cocoa and has rich resources of gold, diamonds, bauxite and timber.

The 48-year-old prime minister said independence for Ghana would mean nothing if it was not linked with total liberation of other colonial areas on the African continent.

The new country takes in the self-governing colony of the Gold Coast and that part of Togoland formerly administered by Britain under U. N. trusteeship. The name Ghana was chosen by Nkrumah after a rich African kingdom that flourished in the area between the 6th and 10th centuries.

Christians Open Lenten Season

Ash Wednesday Rites Start 40-Day Period

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ash Wednesday observance today ushered in the Lenten season of prayer, fasting, abstinence and penance for Christians around the world. Special services marked the day.

Lent will run for 40 days over a span of 46 days, with the exclusion of Sundays. The season ends with Easter Sunday on April 21.

Ash Wednesday derives its name from the use of ashes by the faithful. Generally the ashes are obtained by burning the palms blessed on the Palm Sunday of the year before.

Many Protestant churches will observe the opening of Lent with Holy Communion services tonight.

In the Roman Church's observance of Ash Wednesday, a priest dips his thumb in the palm ashes and makes a cross on the forehead of each individual penitent.

HE INTONES: "Remember, man thou art dust and unto dust thou shalt return."

The yearly Lenten observance follows a pattern set by Christ Himself when He passed 40 days and 40 nights in the desert, fasting and praying.

In modern day observance, the 40-day period ends with Easter Sunday, when Christ arose from the dead after His crucifixion on the cross.

$45,000 Note Planned For City School Needs

An anticipatory note for $45,000 will be issued within the next couple weeks to replace the boilers in the Washington C. H. High School, take an option on the 30-acre site on Elm St. for the proposed new Eastside School and pay architect's fees for the boiler installation.

The Board of Education had decided on this course previously, but final decision was delayed until an option on the legality of the issuance of the note was received Wednesday morning from the board's bond attorneys, Bricker, Marburger, Evatt and Barton of Columbus.

The note is to be issued to the First National Bank against the $645,000 bond issue voted last November for the building program. This program included the boiler replacement and purchase of Elm St. site, along with construction of two new elementary schools and additions to two others, Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill.

SALE OF THE entire bond issue was held up on advice of the attorneys after a Citizens Committee was created by the Fayette County Board of Education in settlement of a Probate Court suit brought by a dozen taxpayers.

Sale of a Miami Trace district bond issue of $1,652,500 for a building program voted last November also was held up for the same reason.

The Washington C. H. board based its decision to issue the one-year anticipatory note for $45,000 on word that the high school boilers would not be approved for use next year by the Ohio Bureau of Inspection.

Time also had run out on an agreement between the board and the Ohio Water Service Co. for the purchase of the Elm St. tract when and if, the bond issue was approved. This agreement did not take in to consideration the obstacles raised by creation of the Citizens Committee, but the Water Co. had extended it for a "reasonable period" until the future of the bond issue was cleared up. Agreement has been reached on $1,500 for the one year option.

The new boilers are calculated to cost between $35,000 and $40,000. The architect's fee for the boiler installation and interest on the note will be paid out of the remainder of the $45,000.

Biophysicist Says Electricity Proved To Be Blindness Cure

COLUMBUS (AP) — Experiments have shown that electricity can be used to cure blindness, relieve headaches, and, in some cases, slow down or speed up normal growth, a group of biophysicists were told here today.

Dr. Carroll E. Humphrey of the applied physics laboratory of Johns Hopkins University told the first National Congress of Biophysicists that experiments have shown electrical impulses can change the rate that blood flows to the human eye.

It can thus improve nutrition to the point where vision is restored in some cases in which circulatory disorders have been the cause of blindness, he said.

Other experiments have shown that, by treating blood vessels in the head with electrical impulses, tension and migrane headaches can be relieved.

Dr. Humphrey said results of the experiments are not surprising, since pain and other sensations are measurable voltages conducted along nerves. When one voltage exists, he said, another voltage can stop or alter it.

IN ANOTHER paper prepared for delivery at today's congress, Dr. Charles Wunder, an Iowa State University scientist, said experiments have shown that tremendous increases in gravity can slow down the growth of organisms.

Tests with fruit fly larvae, he said, showed the larvae grew at less than one-fourth their normal rate when subjected to centrifugal forces up to 5,000 times the force of gravity.

Dr. Wunder said he did not know what caused the slowup, but he theorized it may be that energy normally used in growth is "shifted" to compensate for the abnormal pressure

Portland Night Club Boss Denies Being Vice 'Expert'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nathan Zusman, Portland night spot operator, denied to Senate rackets investigators that he was "an expert on prostitution."

Zusman, owner of the Desert Room, a Portland night club, denied testimony given Tuesday by "Big Helen" Hardy, an admitted "call house" madam, that Zusman helped her establish a house of prostitution and was given a fifth of the profits.

Zusman also denied other allegations made by Mrs. Hardy to the effect that Zusman had assured her she could operate without fear of raids.

He again demanded that lie detector test be given to both him and Mrs. Hardy.

Mrs. Hardy, a massive, graying woman now living in Miles City, Mont., testified she got a green light to open the house from Thomas Maloney, identified to her as the campaign manager of William Langley, Portland district attorney.

She said she met Maloney at Zusman's Desert Room and Maloney assured her she could open a house of prostitution without fear of raids. Maloney has been identified as a Seattle gambler allegedly sent to Portland by teamsters officials to take over gambling and other vice.

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler who has testified he combined with teamsters officials in an effort to take over the city's underworld operations, told the committee union officials ran a test in 1954 or 1955 on whether they had "bought a pig in a poke" in supporting the late Republican Gov. Paul Patterson of Oregon.

Elkins said the test consisted of a successful effort to obtain reinstatement of a state liquor official. Elkins named the official as Tom Sheridan and said he had been discharged for "accepting gratuities, I believe it was."

He said Sheridan got his job back, losing "a month's pay, that's all," after John Sweeney, teamsters Oregon boss now deceased, sent word to Patterson.

At Portland, Sheridan denied Elkins' testimony.

"I didn't go to Elkins or Crosby or to the Teamsters Union for help in getting reinstated. I petitioned the State Civil Service Commission for reinstatement. To my knowledge, Elkins, Crosby or any of those people never used their influence for me," he said.

Landrum Elected To Health Board

Advisory Council Also Names Officers

O. W. Landrum was re-elected to the Fayette County Board of Health Tuesday at the annual meeting of the board's Advisory Council, in the City Building.

Landrum, who has served as president of the board for past year, now enters another five-year term as member of the five-man board that directs all public health activities in Washington C. H. and Fayette County.

Main purpose of the council is to elect the five members of the health board. One member is elected eacy year for a five-year term. The council is made up of one trustee from each township, mayors of incorporated villages and the city manager.

Dr. Benton Van Dyke Scott, county health commissioner, told the council of the "excellent staff" the health department here has, and complimented the employees for being "extremely efficient in their particular fields of endeavor."

City Manager James F. Parkinson, who nominated Landrum, made special note of the staff's "healthy budget-consciousness". He noted that the department had a surplus of $1,400 last year.

ONLY TWO CASES of polio were recorded in the county during 1956, Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior county health nurse, told the group. Only one of them was paralytic, she added.

National Wildlife Program Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ross L. Leffler, assistant secretary of the interior, said today the government plans "a vigorous action program at the national level which will rally meet tomorrow's fish and wildlife needs."

Leffler, the new assistant secretary for fish and wildlife, said in a speech for the North American Wildlife Conference that the 10-year action program would be carried out by a strengthened fish and wild life service.

Acid Splashed In Medic's Face

Texas Attack Linked To Probe of Bribery

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—An unidentified assailant Tuesday night splashed acid in the face of a prominent chiropractor who testified in an investigation of a bribe charge against State Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Dr. E. E. McMeans Jr., 52, his left eye patched, said he had no idea who tossed the bottle of acid at him. He said he knew of no direct connection it could have with the Cox case. But Cox said he thought it was connected with the investigation.

Texas Ranger Johnnie Klevenhagen, assigned to the case, said, "If the acid had hit him in the face full force, he would not have had much face left. He got only the splatter."

McMeans said he was leaving his clinic when the buzzer on the back door sounded. He said when he opened the door, someone threw a jar of liquid at him.

"It felt like fire hitting me," he said. "I ran into the flower shop next door. They have a sink with a faucet high in the air. I turned the faucet on full force. I believe that is what saved me from permanent injury."

COX, 36, resigned as a member of the Texas House of Representatives after being indicted on a charge of agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a bill he introduced that would outlaw the practice of naturopathic medicine in Texas. In testimony before the House Investigating Committee, Cox said he introduced the bill after discussing naturopaths with a chiropractor whom he identified as McMeans.

The charge against Cox was originated by Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn. They stress natural therapy in healing rather than the use of drugs or surgery.

Ohio Flier Hurt In Plane Mishap

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Mather Air Force Base announced the casualty list in the crash of a twin-engined Air Force plane which burned near Zuni, N. M., Tuesday. It included:

Cleveland Mayor Plans to Battle For Pan-Am Games

CLEVELAND (AP) — A trip to Washington Friday is planned by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze in an effort to save the Pan-American games for Cleveland.

The mayor said he would wire acceptance today to Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio), who has arranged for Celebrezze and others to meet with Howard Pyle, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower for intergovernmental affairs. He said he would be accompanied by city council leaders who cared to attend.

Also attending will be Douglas F. Roby of Detroit, chairman of the executive committee of the games to be staged in 1959.

Only a direct appeal from the President to Congress can keep a five million dollar federal Pan-AM appropriation from being cut from the budget, Vanik told Pyle.

The Congressman also has sent a letter to the President, urging that he intervene to save the games for Cleveland

Little Red Hen Lays Green Eggs

The pullet, purchased last July by John Hubbuch, has been laying pastel green eggs since the first of January. The insides are like any other egg.

Hubbuch can't explain it. He feeds the hen the same feed he gives his 16 other fowls. But still she comes up with green eggs.

Advisory Group Tells Ike Foreign Aid Must Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional calls for foreign aid cuts were greeted today by a presidential commission's recommendation that the current spending rate be continued.

The seven-member commission headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless proposed that the program be changed, however, to include more loans and fewer direct grants to spur more private development, and to permit longer range planning of projects.

It expressed hope spending eventually can be cut, but added, "the United States must resolve to stay the course, and must abandon the false hope that collective security costs are temporary."

President Eisenhower, who named the citizens' advisory group five months ago to make the study, will consider the recommendations in drawing up his own foreign aid message to Congress.

The commission proposed:

1. Separation of foreign aid appropriations requests to Congress, so that military projects are presented within the Defense Department's budget and economic projects within the State Department budget.

• • •

2. INTEGRATION of the International Cooperation Administration, which administers foreign aid, into the State Department "as soon as practicable."

3. Congressional appropriation of foreign aid funds on a two-year basis, spanning the life of a Congress, rather than once a year as at present.

4. Tighter coordination of aid projects within the administration to allow a cutback in personnel and more efficient operation.

The report noted that $4.7 billion in grants were handed out last fiscal year, $3.9 billion of them in military aid.

It recommended that, in the future, grants of all kinds should be made in "only those exceptional cases where it is clearly the national interest to do so and when the recipient countries are judged to be unable to repay."

The report observed that $500 million in loans were made last fiscal year. In the future, it said, there should be more loans but only where repayment will be made in currency easily convertible to dollars.

Priority for foreign aid should go to those countries which join in the collective security system being supported against communism by the United States throughout the world, the report said.

Ben-Gurion Wins Backing In Parliament

He Says Peace Assured If U. S., Other Powers 'Keep Their Promises'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel began moving out of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba Gulf coast today.

Premier David Ben - Gurion crushed parliamentary opposition to the pullout, winning overwhelming votes of confidence. He said there will be peace "if the United States and other powers will keep their promises to us."

Arab disturbances and an Israeli suspicion that the U. N. emergency force planned to restore Egyptian administrators in Gaza interrupted the flow of material from the strategic area, but only for a few hours.

The Israeli army announced an Arab civilian and an Israeli soldier were killed and two Israeli soldiers were wounded during an outbreak of sniping and attempted looting.

Ben-Gurion slashed at Egypt's President Nasser in his speech before parliament preliminary to the votes that overwhelmed his foes — the nationalist Herut, the Communists and the conservative general Zionists.

"IF THE UNITED States and other powers will keep their word to us, there will be peace," Ben Gurion said. "If they will not keep their promise and if they shrink before the Egyptian dictator's threats that he will not allow Israeli shipping in the Aqaba Gulf, there will be no peace."

The Gaza Strip was under Egyptian control from 1949 until Israel seized the 75-mile-long district last November. Most of the population consists of Palestinean refugees who are fed by the United Nations.

There appeared to be no snag in the evacuation of Sharm El Sheikh, the Sinai base command in the south of the Aqaba Gulf. Loading of heavy material was reported progressing there according to plan. The troop movement was to start later.

It is understood that the Israelis had agreed to a 24-hour plan for the changeover at a meeting of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the U. N. Emergency Force which is to take over the vacated territories, and Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli army chief of staff.

Israel sought a phased withdrawal to take several weeks on the ground that this would prevent chaos and Arab outbreaks. In view of the reported looting, it is expected Burns and Dayan will work out a new timetable.

Fresh outbursts against the withdrawal order of Premier David Ben-Gurion marked the new ses

Girl's Gory Death Probed by Police

MAHWAH, N. J. (AP) — Police worked through the night questioning school friends of 15-year-old Victoria Zielinski, victim of a gory rock slaying in a dead end lovers lane Monday night.

Guy W. Calissi, Bergen County prosecutor, said police are hoping the children might be able to give some leads to the crime, said by police to be the work of a sadist.

Calissi said the young honor student may have been picked up in a car by a friend while walking home from a homework session at a schoolmate's house.

Non-Cooperating Farms Face Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson is planning to withhold price support aid on 1957 crop corn produced on farms that do not cooperate with the federal planting allotment program, unless grain prices dip before harvest.

Last year, in a move to stabilize prices, Benson offered $1.25 a bushel on such corn, or 25 cents less than for corn produced under acreage allotments. The allotment program is designed to prevent overproduction.

In outlining Benson's policy for this year, assistants said he believes corn prices will hold up fairly well without supports on the noncompliance corn.

COLUMBUS (AP) — Experiments have shown that electricity can be used to cure blindness, relieve headaches, and, in some cases, slow down or speed up normal growth, a group of biophysicists were told here today.

Dr. Carroll E. Humphrey of the applied physics laboratory of Johns Hopkins University told the first National Congress of Biophysicists that experiments have shown electrical impulses can change the rate that blood flows to the human eye.

It can thus improve nutrition to the point where vision is restored in some cases in which circulatory disorders have been the cause of blindness, he said.

Other experiments have shown that, by treating blood vessels in the head with electrical impulses, tension and migrane headaches can be relieved.

Dr. Humphrey said results of the experiments are not surprising, since pain and other sensations are measurable voltages conducted along nerves. When one voltage exists, he said, another voltage can stop or alter it.

IN ANOTHER paper prepared for delivery at today's congress, Dr. Charles Wunder, an Iowa State University scientist, said experiments have shown that tremendous increases in gravity can slow down the growth of organisms.

Tests with fruit fly larvae, he said, showed the larvae grew at less than one-fourth their normal rate when subjected to centrifugal forces up to 5,000 times the force of gravity.

Dr. Wunder said he did not know what caused the slowup, but he theorized it may be that energy normally used in growth is "shifted" to compensate for the abnormal pressure

Portland Night Club Boss Denies Being Vice 'Expert'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nathan Zusman, Portland night spot operator, denied to Senate rackets investigators that he was "an expert on prostitution."

Zusman, owner of the Desert Room, a Portland night club, denied testimony given Tuesday by "Big Helen" Hardy, an admitted "call house" madam, that Zusman helped her establish a house of prostitution and was given a fifth of the profits.

Zusman also denied other allegations made by Mrs. Hardy to the effect that Zusman had assured her she could operate without fear of raids.

He again demanded that lie detector test be given to both him and Mrs. Hardy.

Mrs. Hardy, a massive, graying woman now living in Miles City, Mont., testified she got a green light to open the house from Thomas Maloney, identified to her as the campaign manager of William Langley, Portland district attorney.

She said she met Maloney at Zusman's Desert Room and Maloney assured her she could open a house of prostitution without fear of raids. Maloney has been identified as a Seattle gambler allegedly sent to Portland by teamsters officials to take over gambling and other vice.

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler who has testified he combined with teamsters officials in an effort to take over the city's underworld operations, told the committee union officials ran a test in 1954 or 1955 on whether they had "bought a pig in a poke" in supporting the late Republican Gov. Paul Patterson of Oregon.

Elkins said the test consisted of a successful effort to obtain reinstatement of a state liquor official. Elkins named the official as Tom Sheridan and said he had been discharged for "accepting gratuities, I believe it was."

He said Sheridan got his job back, losing "a month's pay, that's all," after John Sweeney, teamsters Oregon boss now deceased, sent word to Patterson.

At Portland, Sheridan denied Elkins' testimony.

"I didn't go to Elkins or Crosby or to the Teamsters Union for help in getting reinstated. I petitioned the State Civil Service Commission for reinstatement. To my knowledge, Elkins, Crosby or any of those people never used their influence for me," he said.

Landrum Elected To Health Board

Advisory Council Also Names Officers

O. W. Landrum was re-elected to the Fayette County Board of Health Tuesday at the annual meeting of the board's Advisory Council, in the City Building.

Landrum, who has served as president of the board for past year, now enters another five-year term as member of the five-man board that directs all public health activities in Washington C. H. and Fayette County.

Main purpose of the council is to elect the five members of the health board. One member is elected eacy year for a five-year term. The council is made up of one trustee from each township, mayors of incorporated villages and the city manager.

Dr. Benton Van Dyke Scott, county health commissioner, told the council of the "excellent staff" the health department here has, and complimented the employees for being "extremely efficient in their particular fields of endeavor."

City Manager James F. Parkinson, who nominated Landrum, made special note of the staff's "healthy budget-consciousness". He noted that the department had a surplus of $1,400 last year.

ONLY TWO CASES of polio were recorded in the county during 1956, Miss Gretchen Darlington, senior county health nurse, told the group. Only one of them was paralytic, she added.

National Wildlife Program Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ross L. Leffler, assistant secretary of the interior, said today the government plans "a vigorous action program at the national level which will rally meet tomorrow's fish and wildlife needs."

Leffler, the new assistant secretary for fish and wildlife, said in a speech for the North American Wildlife Conference that the 10-year action program would be carried out by a strengthened fish and wild life service.

Acid Splashed In Medic's Face

Texas Attack Linked To Probe of Bribery

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—An unidentified assailant Tuesday night splashed acid in the face of a prominent chiropractor who testified in an investigation of a bribe charge against State Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

Dr. E. E. McMeans Jr., 52, his left eye patched, said he had no idea who tossed the bottle of acid at him. He said he knew of no direct connection it could have with the Cox case. But Cox said he thought it was connected with the investigation.

Texas Ranger Johnnie Klevenhagen, assigned to the case, said, "If the acid had hit him in the face full force, he would not have had much face left. He got only the splatter."

McMeans said he was leaving his clinic when the buzzer on the back door sounded. He said when he opened the door, someone threw a jar of liquid at him.

"It felt like fire hitting me," he said. "I ran into the flower shop next door. They have a sink with a faucet high in the air. I turned the faucet on full force. I believe that is what saved me from permanent injury.'

COX, 36, resigned as a member of the Texas House of Representatives after being indicted on a charge of agreeing to accept a $5,000 bribe to withdraw a bill he introduced that would outlaw the practice of naturopathic medicine in Texas. In testimony before the House Investigating Committee, Cox said he introduced the bill after discussing naturopaths with a chiropractor whom he identified as McMeans.

Ohio Flier Hurt In Plane Mishap

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Mather Air Force Base announced the casualty list in the crash of a twin-engined Air Force plane which burned near Zuni, N. M., Tuesday. It included:

Lt. R. H. Bulware, Fields Ertel Road, Rt. 1, Fosters, Ohio; serious burns.

Cleveland Mayor Plans to Battle For Pan-Am Games

CLEVELAND (AP) — A trip to Washington Friday is planned by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze in an effort to save the Pan-American games for Cleveland.

The mayor said he would wire acceptance today to Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio), who has arranged for Celebrezze and others to meet with Howard Pyle, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower for intergovernmental affairs. He said he would be accompanied by city council leaders who cared to attend.

Also attending will be Douglas F. Roby of Detroit, chairman of the executive committee of the games to be staged in 1959.

Only a direct appeal from the President to Congress can keep a five million dollar federal Pan-AM appropriation from being cut from the budget, Vanik told Pyle.

The Congressman also has sent a letter to the President, urging that he intervene to save the games for Cleveland

Little Red Hen Lays Green Eggs

The pullet, purchased last July by John Hubbuch, has been laying pastel green eggs since the first of January. The insides are like any other egg.

Hubbuch can't explain it. He feeds the hen the same feed he gives his 16 other fowls. But still she comes up with green eggs.

Advisory Group Tells Ike Foreign Aid Must Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional calls for foreign aid cuts were greeted today by a presidential commission's recommendation that the current spending rate be continued.

The seven-member commission headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless proposed that the program be changed, however, to include more loans and fewer direct grants to spur more private development, and to permit longer range planning of projects.

It expressed hope spending eventually can be cut, but added, "the United States must resolve to stay the course, and must abandon the false hope that collective security costs are temporary."

President Eisenhower, who named the citizens' advisory group five months ago to make the study, will consider the recommendations in drawing up his own foreign aid message to Congress.

The commission proposed:

1. Separation of foreign aid appropriations requests to Congress, so that military projects are presented within the Defense Department's budget and economic projects within the State Department budget.

2. INTEGRATION of the International Cooperation Administration, which administers foreign aid, into the State Department "as soon as practicable."

3. Congressional appropriation of foreign aid funds on a two-year basis, spanning the life of a Congress, rather than once a year as at present.

4. Tighter coordination of aid projects within the administration to allow a cutback in personnel and more efficient operation.

The report noted that $4.7 billion in grants were handed out last fiscal year, $3.9 billion of them in military aid.

It recommended that, in the future, grants of all kinds should be made in "only those exceptional cases where it is clearly the national interest to do so and when the recipient countries are judged to be unable to repay."

The report observed that $500 million in loans were made last fiscal year. In the future, it said, there should be more loans but only where repayment will be made in currency easily convertible to dollars.

Priority for foreign aid should go to those countries which join in the collective security system being supported against communism by the United States throughout the world, the report said.

Ben-Gurion Wins Backing In Parliament

He Says Peace Assured If U. S., Other Powers 'Keep Their Promises'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel began moving out of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba Gulf coast today.

Premier David Ben-Gurion crushed parliamentary opposition to the pullout, winning overwhelming votes of confidence. He said there will be peace "if the United States and other powers will keep their promises to us."

Arab disturbances and an Israeli suspicion that the U. N. emergency force planned to restore Egyptian administrators in Gaza interrupted the flow of material from the strategic area, but only for a few hours.

The Israeli army announced an Arab civilian and an Israeli soldier were killed and two Israeli soldiers were wounded during an outbreak of sniping and attempted looting.

Ben-Gurion slashed at Egypt's President Nasser in his speech before parliament preliminary to the votes that overwhelmed his foes — the nationalist Herut, the Communists and the conservative general Zionists.

"IF THE UNITED States and other powers will keep their word to us, there will be peace," Ben-Gurion said. "If they will not keep their promise and if they shrink before the Egyptian dictator's threats that he will not allow Israeli shipping in the Aqaba Gulf, there will be no peace."

The Gaza Strip was under Egyptian control from 1949 until Israel seized the 26-mile-long district last November. Most of the population consists of Palestinean refugees who are fed by the United Nations.

There appeared to be no snag in the evacuation of Sharm El Sheikh, the Sinai base commanding the south of the Aqaba Gulf. Loading of heavy material was reported progressing there according to plan. The troop movement were to start later.

It is understood that the Israelis had agreed to a 24-hour plan for the changeover at a meeting of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the U. N. Emergency Force which is to take over the vacated territories, and Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli army chief of staff.

Israel sought a phased withdrawal to take several weeks on the ground that this would prevent chaos and Arab outbreaks. In view of the reported looting, it is expected Burns and Dayan will work out a new timetable.

Girl's Gory Death Probed by Police

MAHWAH, N. J. (AP) — Police worked through the night questioning school friends of 15-year-old Victoria Zielinski, victim of a gory rock slaying in a dead end lovers lane Monday night.

Guy W. Calissi, Bergen County prosecutor, said police are hoping the children might be able to give some leads to the crime, said by police to be the work of a sadist.

Calissi said the young honor student may have been picked up in a car by a friend while walking home from a homework session at a schoolmate's house.

Non-Cooperating Farms Face Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson is planning to withhold price support aid on 1957 crop corn produced on farms that do not cooperate with the federal planting allotment program, unless grain prices dip before harvest.

Last year, in a move to stabilize prices, Benson offered $1.25 a bushel on such corn, or 25 cents less than for corn produced under acreage allotments. The allotment program is designed to prevent overproduction.

In outlining Benson's policy for this year, assistants said he believes corn prices will hold up fairly well without supports on the noncompliance corn.

All-Ohio Pork Picnic Planned Here by Board

Twenty-five officers, directors and guests were at Tuesday evening's regular meeting of the Pork Producers Assn. of Fayette County at Anderson's Drive-in.

Guests for the evening included W. H. Bruner, swine marketing specialist, and Herbert Barnes, swine specialist, Ohio State University and Robert Snyder of Wilmington, president of the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn.

With non-members at the regular board meeting, one of the major pieces of business was the discussion of the All-Ohio Pork Picnic scheduled for Saturday, September 14 at Fayette County Fairground. The picnic is being sponsored jointly by the county association and the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn.

Temporary plans include a program from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. It will consist of short talks, "catch the greased pig", and "hog calling" contest, crowning a pork queen, exhibits of various feed lot equipment and probably an auction.

The noon meal will feature baked ham.

The members present had estimated from 1,000 to 2,000 tickets could be sold.

A. R. RANKIN of Jasper township has been named general picnic chairman by the associations. Already some 14 different committees, including nearly 100 members, have been appointed.

Since Fayette County has gained the distinction of having the largest number of hogs as any county in the state and being in the center of the hog population, with over 50 per cent of the gross income to farmers in this section of the state coming from the sale of pork, this county was considered an ideal place for the first All-Ohio Pork Picnic.

The barrow show to be held at the Fair here next July was discussed. An increase in the number of exhibits in the commercial fat hog show this year is hoped for.

Decision on a carcass cut-out demonstration was deferred until the next meeting of the association directors.

The association set up these committees,

Cholera eradication — Homer Wilson, Lester Stephenson, E. E. Jenks, Dr. J. A. McCoy and Dr. D. R. Junk;

Feed research projects — Homer Wilson, George Gray, R. McFadden and Raymond Bishop.

Considerable discussion centered around what is commonly called "baby pig disease" Numerous instances were cited of farmers having trouble with pig losses this spring.

Farmer and Student Among Witnesses

HILLSBORO — State's witnesses Tuesday and Wednesday told a Highland County Common Pleas Court jury the grim story of discovering the body of an alleged murder victim, Durward E. Perry, and presented evidence that Perry had been stabbed.

Their testimony highlighted the opening of the first degree murder trial of Robert Lee Curtis, 22, former Zanesville youth accused of the robbery - slaying of Perry, a taxi operator, in Greenfield last Dec. 8.

Curtis has pleaded innocent on grounds of insanity. Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane who has been subpoenaed to appear in the trial, declared Curtis legally sane after a 30 - day stay at the hospital.

AFTER VIEWING the Greenfield scene of the alleged murder Tuesday, jurors heard Charles McMurray and Miss Barbara Hafer testify that they had discovered Perry's body on the Creek Road near Greenfield the night of Dec. 8.

McMurray, a farmer who lives near the spot where Perry's body was found, said he noticed the body as he was driving home. Miss Hafer, a Greenfield high school senior, told the jury she was riding by with Larry Hedges, another Greenfield senior, when she saw Perry's body. Both McMurray and Miss Hafer reported their discovery to police.

Wednesday morning, Dr. J. Martin Byers, Highland County coroner and Dr. Frank Cleveland, Hamilton County Pathologist, told the jury of their examinations and the evidence indicating Perry was stabbed. Richard Perry, a son of the alleged victim, testified briefly.

Common Pleas Judge Darrell Hottle is presiding.

Arabs Pulling Out

sion of the Knesset (parliament). The debate was preliminary to a test of the government's strength.

Truckloads of stores had been rumbling out of Gaza in a drenching rain. Israeli planes and vessels also started moving equipment from Sharm el Sheikh.

It could not be learned immediately when the U. N. Emergency Force would enter the two areas, but plans called for moving them in simultaneously with the Israeli departure.

A "BLITZ" transfer was planned for the Gaza Strip, to prevent Arab agitators from igniting anti-Israeli demonstrations. The borders of the strip have been sealed since the weekend and newsmen forbidden entry.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was reported planning to fly to Cairo and Gaza early next week to set up a U.N. civil administration for Gaza. Plans announced for the deployment of the U. N. troops indicated a lengthy stay was contemplated, even if Egypt objected.

Defending his withdrawal decision, Ben-Gurion told the unruly Parliament Tuesday night that the aim of the October invasion was deliverance of Israel from Arab attack, not conquest.

"I am keenly aware of the dangers involved in the settlement we have made," he declared.

As opposition deputies nearly drowned out his words, Ben-Gurion acknowledged that Israel had failed to obtain U.N. guarantees of security against Arab attack. But he said the United States and other Western nations had given assurances of support for maintaining peace in the area.

"The President of the United States has assumed a moral responsibility to aid Israel and many other nations have made statements which involve a moral commitment,' he asserted.

"I WILL NOT hide the fact that the government's decision was not an easy one and was not unanimous, but the government is responsible as a whole to the nation."

Ben-Gurion made two points:

1. Any Arab interference with Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba "will be regarded by Israel as an attack entitling her to use her inherent right to self-defense."

2. The Gaza Strip will present a grave problem until a solution of the Arab refugee problem and a peace settlement with Egypt are achieved.

When the white haired leader sat down, the hooting opposition staged the noisiest demonstration ever heard in Israel's parliament. Speakers at an earlier mass rally in Jerusalem accused Ben-Gurion of surrender and demanded that he resign.

Police Fusillade Is Hot Answer to Thief's Conscience

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — Attorney Don Hanni, former assistant police prosecutor, rushed into the police crime laboratory here with a small package. It was crudely wrapped. A bomb? Hanni wanted to know quickly.

A police squad, armed with rifles, rushed the package to the police firing range. There was a fusillade of shots. Nothing happened.

Police cautiously crept to the shattered package. They found they had shot the stuffings out of a transistor radio. The radio has been stolen previously from Hanni and the conscience-stricken thief had mailed it back.

14 Persons Hurt As Auto Rams Bus

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — Fourteen persons were injured, two seriously, here Tuesday night in a collision involving two automobiles and a parked bus.

Officers said an automobile driven by Nathaniel Williams, 26, sideswiped another driven by Mary Louise Dietz, 19, and then went 145 feet out of control, crashing headon into a Youngstown municipal bus which had parked to discharge passengers.

Williams and his brother, Clarence, 23, were reported in serious condition in a hospital.

All-Ohio Pork Picnic Planned Here by Board

Twenty-five officers, directors and guests were at Tuesday evening's regular meeting of the Pork Producers Assn. of Fayette County at Anderson's Drive-in.

Guests for the evening included W. H. Bruner, swine marketing specialist, and Herbert Barnes, swine specialist, Ohio State University and Robert Snyder of Wilmington, president of the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn.

With non-members at the regular board meeting, one of the major pieces of business was the discussion of the All-Ohio Pork Picnic scheduled for Saturday, September 14 at Fayette County Fairground. The picnic is being sponsored jointly by the county association and the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn.

Temporary plans include a program from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. It will consist of short talks, "catch the greased pig", and "hog calling" contest, crowning a pork queen, exhibits of various feed lot equipment and probably an auction.

The noon meal will feature baked ham.

The members present had estimated from 1,000 to 2,000 tickets could be sold.

A. R. RANKIN of Jasper township has been named general picnic chairman by the associations. Already some 14 different committees, including nearly 100 members, have been appointed.

Since Fayette County has gained the distinction of having the largest number of hogs as any county in the state and being in the center of the hog population, with over 50 per cent of the gross income to farmers in this section of the state coming from the sale of pork, this county was considered an ideal place for the first All-Ohio Pork Picnic.

The barrow show to be held at the Fair here next July was discussed. An increase in the number of exhibits in the commercial fat hog show this year is hoped for.

Decision on a carcass cut-out demonstration was deferred until the next meeting of the association directors.

The association set up these committees,

Cholera eradication — Homer Wilson, Lester Stephenson, E. E. Jenks, Dr. J. A. McCoy and Dr. D. R. Junk;

Feed research projects — Homer Wilson, George Gray, R. McFadden and Raymond Bishop.

Considerable discussion centered around what is commonly called "baby pig disease". Numerous instances were cited of farmers having trouble with pig losses this spring.

Farmer and Student Among Witnesses

HILLSBORO — State's witnesses Tuesday and Wednesday told a Highland County Common Pleas Court jury the grim story of discovering the body of an alleged murder victim, Durward E. Perry, and presented evidence that Perry had been stabbed.

Their testimony highlighted the opening of the first degree murder trial of Robert Lee Curtis, 22, former Zanesville youth accused of the robbery - slaying of Perry, a taxi operator, in Greenfield last Dec. 8.

Curtis has pleaded innocent on grounds of insanity. Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane who has been subpoenaed to appear in the trial, declared Curtis legally sane after a 30 - day stay at the hospital.

AFTER VIEWING the Greenfield scene of the alleged murder Tuesday, jurors heard Charles McMurray and Miss Barbara Hafer testify that they had discovered Perry's body on the Creek Road near Greenfield the night of Dec. 8.

McMurray, a farmer who lives near the spot where Perry's body was found, said he noticed the body as he was driving home. Miss Hafer, a Greenfield high school senior, told the jury she was riding by with Larry Hedges, another Greenfield senior, when she saw Perry's body. Both McMurray and Miss Hafer reported their discovery to police.

Wednesday morning, Dr. J. Martin Byers, Highland County coroner and Dr. Frank Cleveland, Hamilton County Pathologist, told the jury of their examinations and the evidence indicating Perry was stabbed. Richard Perry, a son of the alleged victim, testified briefly.

Common Pleas Judge Darrell Hottle is presiding.

Talbott Buried

DAYTON (AP)—Crowds of spectators and 100 Air Force men in full dress uniform stood by as Harold E. Talbott, 68, Dayton-born former secretary of the Air Force, was buried here Tuesday.

Mainly About People

Larry Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stephenson, of the Waterloo Rd., was recently elected as secretary of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity at Ohio State University, Columbus. Larry is a member of the sophomore class.

Mrs. Ed Reser, in the interest of Craig Bros. Store, attended an all-day session Tuesday of the Revlon School at the Biltmore Hotel in Dayton.

Bill Randolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Randolph, 1004½ S. Fayette St., underwent an emergency appendectomy, Tuesday, in Cumberland Memorial Hospital, Crossville, Tennessee.

Truckloads of stores had been rumbling out of Gaza in a drenching rain. Israeli planes and vessels also started moving equipment from Sharm el Sheikh.

It could not be learned immediately when the U. N. Emergency Force would enter the two areas, but plans called for moving them in simultaneously with the Israeli departure.

A "BLITZ" transfer was planned for the Gaza Strip, to prevent Arab agitators from igniting anti-Israeli demonstrations. The borders of the strip have been sealed since the weekend and newsmen forbidden entry.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was reported planning to fly to Cairo and Gaza early next week to set up a U.N civil administration for Gaza. Plans announced for the deployment of the U. N. troops indicated a lengthy stay was contemplated, even if Egypt objected.

Defending his withdrawal decision, Ben-Gurion told the unruly Parliament Tuesday night that the aim of the October invasion was deliverance of Israel from Arab attack, not conquest.

"I am keenly aware of the dangers involved in the settlement we have made," he declared.

As opposition deputies nearly drowned out his words, Ben-Gurion acknowledged that Israel had failed to obtain U.N. guarantees of security against Arab attack. But he said the United States and other Western nations had given assurances of support for maintaining peace in the area.

"The President of the United States has assumed a moral responsibility to aid Israel and many other nations have made statements which involve a moral commitment," he asserted.

"I WILL NOT hide the fact that the government's decision was not an easy one and was not unanimous, but the government is responsible as a whole to the nation."

Ben-Gurion made two points:

1. Any Arab interference with Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba "will be regarded by Israel as an attack entitling her to use her inherent right of self-defense."

2. The Gaza Strip will present a grave problem until a solution of the Arab refugee problem and a peace settlement with Egypt are achieved.

When the white haired leader sat down, the hooting opposition staged the noisiest demonstration ever heard in Israel's parliament. Speakers at an earlier mass rally in Jerusalem accused Ben-Gurion of surrender and demanded that he resign.

The Public Is Indignant Over Such Methods

In a substantial and conservative county like Fayette it is exceedingly difficult for residents of a community like this to reconcile with any degree of ordinary common sense violence and damage to property that goes on in some localities in connection with strikes.

One of the most foolish of these situations recently was given prominence in TV and newspaper pictures and stories in connection with the farmers strike for higher prices on milk produced in the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania area. There milk was dumped from wagons enroute to market, poured over the ground, even wagons being upset. Many women were among those seen adding to violent acts.

What is called the Tri-State Dairy Farmers' Guild did not help its cause by countenancing such activity, where frustrated strikers "roughhoused" non-striking dairymen farmers, when they thought they could get away with such tactics.

The striking organization pulled a "boner" by such tactics, just as has been done in other places when union strikers in other lines, at times have used "goons" and "hoodlums" to commit similar acts.

The repeated slashing of telephone cables and doing other damage to property, only as far away from here as Portsmouth, and some towns even nearer, was a sample of action which the general public certainly does not view with favor, regardless of the merits of the strike controversy.

In the case of the "milk strike" in eastern states, the vast majority of non-member dairymen, many of whom might have been won over by persuasion, were alienated by gangster methods. Public opinion became indignant by the wilful dumping of milk, which even in an era of plenty seems an indecent waste.

The Farmers Guild could achieve the same effect by withholding milk shipments from normal markets and diverting the milk to charitable and welfare institutions as free contributions. Throwing the milk away is an act of such silly malice that farmers who do it throw public good-will away with it. They can't afford either loss.

Throwing a Cow Out of Work?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That it takes the conscientious efforts of 2,400,000 dairy cattle, manufacturing around the clock, to supply the cream used each day by American coffee drinkers. So, if you quaff your brew black, you may throw an innocent cow out of work.

That some of the major turnpikes, hoping to cut down accidents, have installed coin vending machines that dispense fatigue-relieving oxygen to weary motorists.

That practically nobody today remembers the name of the university professor who gave a final grade of "mediocre" in chemistry to Louis Pasteur who developed shots to prevent rabies, saved the wine industry of France after a devastating grape blight, and made milk safe. No telling what Pasteur might have accomplished if he'd only studied harder.

That Jean Baptiste Lully, the father of orchestra conducting, gave his life to his art in a curious way. At 54 he died of an infection caused by his habit of pounding his little toe with a heavy staff he used in conducting. After that came the baton.

That, when a scalp hair falls out, it ordinarily takes the follicle about four months to sprout a new hair. But I know at least 10,000 lazy follicles, none more than 8 inches from the tip of my ears, that haven't put in an honest day of growing in 20 years, and I've tempted them with every kind of scalp food but caviar.

That Bill Skowron, the ball player, can swing a bat at a speed of 120 miles an hour whether he hits or not.

That the Japanese put up a monument to commemorate the fact Thomas A. Edison used bamboo in making a filament for his first electric light bulb.

That it isn't true the northern lights are caused by the reflection of moonlight or sunlight on icebergs, as some people believe. The lights are the glow that results when atoms of rarefied gases in the upper atmosphere unite again after being split apart by electrically charged particles shot out from the fierce solar storms known as sunspots.

(Editor's Note: Now that Boyle has explained the Aurora Borealis, we think it only fair to offer the Aurora Borealis equal space to defend itself—or to explain Boyle).

That a Canadian medical journal offers this simple advice to white collar men who want to avoid a heart attack: eat less fatty foods and keep moving!

That some statistician has figured total government costs in the United States since 1789 now are nearing the $1 trillion mark and 82 per cent of them have been racked up since 1940.

That civilization has produced a new frustration psychosis among our feathered friends, the woodpeckers. They are getting sore-beaked drilling for worms in aluminum TV antennas, which they mistake for a new kind of dead tree.

That in 1900 it took four to six months to tan leather, a process that can now be done chemically in eight hours. The tanning of children, however, is still done largely by hand, although it has become an all-but-forgotten art.

When You Deal with Savages

By George Sokolsky

There are 450 American servicemen who are missing and unaccounted for in the Korean war. The Department of Defense takes the position that they are presumed to be dead and their next-of-kin have so been informed. The official State Department attitude is:

"...Under the terms of the Korean armistice agreement, the Chinese Communists have the obligation to give us whatever information they can about the fate of these men. Despite this obligation, and despite our vigorous efforts at Geneva and Panmunjom, the Communists have refused to give a satisfactory accounting for these men."

It is impossible to get away from the fact that the Red Chinese refuse to give a satisfactory accounting for these men. They may be alive, sick or dead; they may be happy or miserable. All that their parents can do is keep a light burning in the window in the hope that they may come home one day. This country has been at war with Spaniards, Germans and Japanese, but it has never encountered a foe who disregards the basic amenities among nations which is to treat prisoners of war as innocent persons who obey orders and are caught in an unfortunate situation.

"Theirs not to reason why,
"Theirs but to do and die.'

The attitude of the State Department is also contained in the phrase: "...In keeping with our country's position that international problems should be resolved without force and threats of force..." But when a country deals with a nation that only knows force and that only respects force what is the value of a prolonged palaver? It would be just as suitable to hold no conferences, to avoid meetings and to wait until the course of events solved all problems. Certainly there can be no solution in the endless meetings at Geneva.

I am constantly receiving letters from mothers in search of missing sons. There must be more than a casual responsibility on the part of our government for these boys and for the peace of mind of their parents. Granted that the Red Chirese have other purposes than the American negotiators at Geneva. The Americans want the remaining 10 civilians released; they want to know about the 450 American servicemen alive or dead; they want to eliminate the possibility of war over Formosa. The Red Chinese want to be admitted into the United Nations and if possible, they want to be recognized by the United States.

Obviously there can be no meeting of the minds. The Red Chinese are in a position to say that the United States begs the the issue; the Americans can say that the Red Chinese are blackmailing them for a seat in the United Nations. However you look at it, it is a dreadfully bad situation, particularly for the parents of the 450 for whom there may not even be a decent grave.

A complicating factor in this situation is that we never were at war with Red China. It was a United Nations police action against North Korea. After General MacArthur virtually eans the Red Chinese took over this war as volunteers. But it was not really a war, although many were killed in it. It was a police action like the present United Nations patrol along the banks of the Suez and in the Sinai peninsula. So, if the United Nations takes over the Gaza strip, it would not be imperialism; it will be an international police action to keep Israel and Egypt separated. A fight might be very disturbing, indeed. And so, these countries must be separated.

Thus far, no American troops are involved in the Suez police action nor will they be in the Gaza strip action. Up to now, the United Nations has not favored the larger countries getting into it, but there is no telling what can happen, particularly as the Eisenhower Doctrine calls for the United States sending troops to any Middle Eastern country that wants aid against the Communists. There is no telling about it at all. Nor is it possible to know whether an Arab country asking for aid against Russia might not, in time, ask Russia for aid against the United States. This is a mixed up world and all sorts of things happen.

Diet and Health

What Can Doctor Do If X-ray Shows TB

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Suppose a tuberculin test or a chest X-ray indicates you have tuberculosis. What can you do? What can your doctor do for you?

First of all, let me assure you that most cases of TB can be cured provided treatment is begun in time.

Through the use of various drugs we can usually bring the germs under control. In some cases, surgery is necessary. By operating we can remove damaged parts of the body or collapse a lung to make it heal more quickly.

Bed Rest

Two other things also are very important in treating tuberculosis. Victims must rest in bed at least during the early stages of the treatment. And a properly prepared, balanced, wholesome diet is essential, too.

It stands to reason, of course, that you will get better treatment and better care in a hospital. But in case you plan to argue that you might be better off at home, let me point out the advantages of going to a hospital for treatment of TB.

First a hospital furnishes the most up-to-date medical, surgical and nursing care. Certain types of treatment can be given nowhere else.

Your family and friends are better protected from the disease with you in the hospital since there is less chance they will catch it.

Hospital personnel can show you how to take care of yourself after leaving and can help you prepare for your return to your family and job.

Frequent Examinations

Once you leave the hospital, the doctors will examine you frequently to determine whether all evidence of active TB has vanished. If it has, you can safely go back to work and mingle with others without any danger of infecting them.

Periodic examinations are necessary to make sure that there are no recurrences of the disease.

The most dangerous sources of tuberculosis are not ex-patients, but patients who don't follow doctors' orders and those who have the disease but don't know it.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

E. A.: Should one force a child to eat?

Answer: It is not advisable. If the child is continuously forced to eat, he will develop a dislike for the foods offered and the eating problem will become worse.

Seiberling Proxy Fight Is Averted

TOLEDO (AP)—Toledo industrialist Edward Lamb and J. P. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron, have signed an agreement to eliminate the possibility of a proxy fight for control of the rubber company this year.

The agreement provides that common stock held by Seiberling management, Lamb and his Edward Lamb Enterprises, Inc., will be voted for a joint slate of directors at Seiberling's annual meeting April 22.

The joint slate of 15 members is composed of the present directorate. Four of these were named to the board last year with Lamb's backing. They are Lamb, J. Howard McGrath, Frank C. Oswald, and M. H. Pendergast.

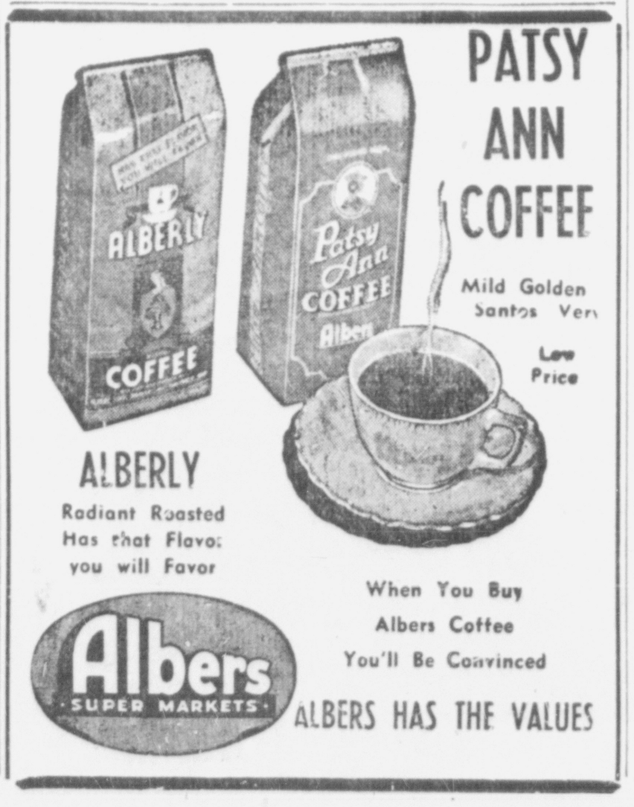

Hospital Censoring Ordered Halted

NORWALK (AP)—The publisher of the weekly Plymouth Advertiser, A. J. Paddock Jr., complained to the nearby Willard city council that officials at Willard Municipal Hospital refused to release names of accident victims.

Paddock referred specifically to a traffic accident in which six Roman Catholic nuns from Toledo were injured.

Councilmen told Solicitor Joseph Dush to notify the hospital it must release such information since it is a municipal institution.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's raining ideas on what to do about foreign aid. When the rain's over you can be sure Congress will go right on voting money for foreign aid.

Congress had voted more than 50 billion dollars in economic and military assistance to other countries since the Marshall Plan began in 1948. But this year, as in years past, the two main points are still these:

1. How much money will Congress approve?

2. Will it still vote it on a year-by-year basis only? Or will it this time change and agree to long-term commitments to permit long-range planning — like water development — among nations getting American money?

There has been growing hostility in Congress to continuing foreign aid at all. This shows it: Only seven senators voted against start of the Marshall Plan nine years ago; last year 30 senators voted against foreign aid.

And last year Congress cut a billion dollars off President Eisenhower's foreign aid request. He got $3 ,000,000. This year he has asked for $4 363,000,000. That will probably be trimmed too.

Already some members of Congress — particularly Eisenhower's own Republicans—are talking of lopping up to seven billion dollars off his total budget request for $71,800,000 000.

Because of the criticism of the foreign aid program — the opposition to it and the questions raised about — at least 23 seperate studies of foreign aid problems ha been made in this capital since last summer.

All shou'd be finished and made public by the end of March. Not one study so far released has suggested ending foreign aid. Some suggested it be put on a long-range basis.

Those 23 studies fall into three main groups:

1. The House Foreign Affairs Committee, after months of examination, issued last December a report which said foreign aid should be continued, but cut, and that the economic part of it should be in loans, not gifts, even though some of the loans are never paid back.

The idea was that countries which had to pay back the money, or thought they would be expected to, would be more careful how they spent it.

2. Last summer the Senate voted $293,000 or a special committee to make a study. It hired 11 researchers or investigations to study separate problems of foreign aid and sent 10 prominent Americans to various areas receiving American help.

The reports from these groups and individuals are now being released in a steady flow.

3. Meanwhile, Eisenhower last September created a special seven-man commission of distinguished citizens — headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless— to study foreign aid and report to him.

Members of this commission traveled around the earth and Tuesday its report to the President was made public.

The President's commission reported: The mutual security program must be continued for "years to come." It urged more loans, fewer gifts. It suggested drastic cuts in the number of foreign aid projects, but didn't say the total amount of money for foreign aid should be reduced.

One of the Senate committee's study groups — the Center for International Studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology— said development-assistance programs, if they are to have good results, should cover at least 5 to 10 years.

Car's 4 Headlights Startle Driver, Causing Crackup

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—A steeple jack whose automobile rammed a telephone pole early today blamed four headlight on an approaching car for his mishap.

"I was blinded and confused. I wanted no part of a head-on collision. So, I took to the ditch," said Russell Leasure, 29, of Rockford. "I realized too late that it was only one car, with its four lights burning."

Leasure, undergoing examination for injuries in Monmouth Hospital, told State Policeman George Clark, "I've never faced anything so frightening while working on a high steeple jack job."

The accident occurred beside U. S. 34 near Coldbrook as Leasure was enroute to Mediapolis, Iowa, where he had planned to start a job on a grain elevator today.

The crash knocked out direct telephone circuits from Chicago to Monmouth for more than five hours.

Obviously there can be no meeting of the minds. The Red Chinese are in a position to say that the United States begs the the issue; the Americans can say that the Red Chinese are blackmailing them for a seat in the United Nations. However you look at it, it is a dreadfully bad situation, particularly for the parents of the 450 for whom there may not even be a decent grave.

A complicating factor in this situation is that we never were at war with Red China. It was a United Nations police action against North Korea. After General MacArthur virtually eans the Red Chinese took over this war as volunteers. But it was not really a war, although many were killed in it. It was a police action like the present United Nations patrol along the banks of the Suez and in the Sinai peninsula. So, if the United Nations takes over the Gaza strip, it would not be imperialism; it will be an international police action to keep Israel and Egypt separated. A fight might be very disturbing, indeed. And so, these countries must be separated.

Thus far, no American troops are involved in the Suez police action nor will they be in the Gaza strip action. Up to now, the United Nations has not favored the larger countries getting into it, but there is no telling what can happen, particularly as the Eisenhower Doctrine calls for the United States sending troops to any Middle Eastern country that wants aid against the Communists. There is no telling about it at all. Nor is it possible to know whether an Arab country asking for aid against Russia might not, in time, ask Russia for aid against the United States. This is a mixed up world and all sorts of things happen.

Diet and Health

What Can Doctor Do If X-ray Shows TB

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Suppose a tuberculin test or a chest X-ray indicates you have tuberculosis. What can you do? What can your doctor do for you?

First of all, let me assure you that most cases of TB can be cured provided treatment is begun in time.

Through the use of various drugs we can usually bring the germs under control. In some cases, surgery is necessary. By operating we can remove damaged parts of the body or collapse a lung to make it heal more quickly.

Bed Rest

Two other things also are very important in treating tuberculosis. Victims must rest in bed at least during the early stages of the treatment. And a properly prepared, balanced, wholesome diet is essential, too.

It stands to reason, of course, that you will get better treatment and better care in a hospital. But in case you plan to argue that you might be better off at home, let me point out the advantages of going to a hospital for treatment of TB.

First a hospital furnishes the most up-to-date medical, surgical and nursing care. Certain types of treatment can be given nowhere else.

Your family and friends are better protected from the disease with you in the hospital since there is less chance they will catch it.

Hospital personnel can show you how to take care of yourself after leaving and can help you prepare for your return to your family and job.

Frequent Examinations

Once you leave the hospital, the doctors will examine you frequently to determine whether all evidence of active TB has vanished. If it has, you can safely go back to work and mingle with others without any danger of infecting them.

Periodic examinations are necessary to make sure that there are no recurrences of the disease.

The most dangerous sources of tuberculosis are not ex-patients, but patients who don't follow doctors' orders and those who have the disease but don't know it.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

E. A.: Should one force a child to eat?

Answer: It is not advisable. If the child is continuously forced to eat, he will develop a dislike for the foods offered and the eating problem will become worse.

Seiberling Proxy Fight Is Averted

TOLEDO (AP)—Toledo industrialist Edward Lamb and J. P. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron, have signed an agreement to eliminate the possibility of a proxy fight for control of the rubber company this year.

The agreement provides that common stock held by Seiberling management, Lamb and his Edward Lamb Enterprises, Inc., will be voted for a joint slate of directors at Seiberling's annual meeting April 22.

The joint slate of 15 members is composed of the present directorate. Four of these were named to the board last year with Lamb's backing. They are Lamb, J. Howard McGrath, Frank C. Oswald, and M. H. Pendergast.

Hospital Censoring Ordered Halted

NORWALK (AP)—The publisher of the weekly Plymouth Advertiser, A. J. Paddock Jr., complained to the nearby Willard city council that officials at Willard Municipal Hospital refused to release names of accident victims.

Paddock referred specifically to a traffic accident in which six Roman Catholic nuns from Toledo were injured.

Councilmen told Solicitor Joseph Dush to notify the hospital it must release such information since it is a municipal institution.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's raining ideas on what to do about foreign aid. When the rain's over you can be sure Congress will go right on voting money for foreign aid.

Congress had voted more than 50 billion dollars in economic and military assistance to other countries since the Marshall Plan began in 1948. But this year, as in years past, the two main points are still these:

1. How much money will Congress approve?

2. Will it still vote it on a year-by-year basis only? Or will it this time change and agree to long-term commitments to permit long-range planning — like water development — among nations getting American money?

There has been growing hostility in Congress to continuing foreign aid at all. This shows it: Only seven senators voted against start of the Marshall Plan nine years ago; last year 30 senators voted against foreign aid.

And last year Congress cut a billion dollars off President Eisenhower's foreign aid request. He got $3,000,000. This year he has asked for $4,363,000,000. That will probably be trimmed too.

Already some members of Congress — particularly Eisenhower's own Republicans—are talking of lopping up to seven billion dollars off his total budget request for $71,800,000,000.

Because of the criticism of the foreign aid program — the opposition to it and the questions raised about — at least 23 seperate studies of foreign aid problems have been made in this capital since last summer.

All shou'd be finished and made public by the end of March. Not one study so far released has suggested ending foreign aid. Some suggested it be put on a long-range basis.

Those 23 studies fall into three main groups:

1. The House Foreign Affairs Committee, after months of examination, issued last December a report which said foreign aid should be continued, but cut, and that the economic part of it should be in loans, not gifts, even though some of the loans are never paid back.

The idea was that countries which had to pay back the money, or thought they would be expected to, would be more careful how they spent it.

2. Last summer the Senate voted $293,000 or a special committee to make a study. It hired 11 research organizations to study separate problems of foreign aid and sent 10 prominent Americans to various areas receiving American help.

The reports from these groups and individuals are now being released in a steady flow.

3. Meanwhile, Eisenhower last September created a special seven-man commission of distinguished citizens — headed by steel executive Benjamin F. Fairless— to study foreign aid and report to him.

Members of this commission traveled around the earth and Tuesday its report to the President was made public.

The President's commission reported: The mutual security program must be continued for "years to come." It urged more loans, fewer gifts. It suggested drastic cuts in the number of foreign aid projects, but didn't say the total amount of money for foreign aid should be reduced.

One of the Senate committee's study groups — the Center for International Studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology—said development-assistance programs, if they are to have good results, should cover at least 5 to 10 years.

Car's 4 Headlights Startle Driver, Causing Crackup

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—A steeple jack whose automobile rammed a telephone pole early today blamed four headlight on an approaching car for his mishap.

"I was blinded and confused. I wanted no part of a head-on collision. So, I took to the ditch," said Russell Leasure, 29, of Rockford. "I realized too late that it was only one car, with its four lights burning."

Leasure, undergoing examination for injuries in Monmouth Hospital, told State Policeman George Clark, "I've never faced anything so frightening while working on a high steeple jack job."

The accident occurred beside U. S. 34 near Coldbrook as Leasure was enroute to Mediapolis, Iowa, where he had planned to start a job on a grain elevator today.

The crash knocked out direct telephone circuits from Chicago to Monmouth for more than five hours.

Lioness Club Meets for Regular Session

Lioness President Eleanor French called the regular meeting of the Lioness Club Tuesday evening at the Country Club to order by the group singing of "America" This was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the invocation given by Mrs. Mona Highfield.

Following the lovely dinner, the secretary's report was given by Mrs. Jane Patton and in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Patton also gave the treasurer's report and read the communications. The Lioness president announced the club will sponsor the Bloodmobile Unit for April 18th and all members were urged to cooperate by Mrs. Irene Wise, who is chairman of the project. A committee report on transportation was given by Mrs. Rosemary Thrailkill who announced forty - five trips had been made to Columbus with eye cases so far this year.

Mrs. French then announced the nominating committee: Mrs. Ann Reinke, Mrs. Emma Griffiths and Mrs. Martha Girton. A directors meeting will be held March 25th at the home of Mrs. Reinke, Mrs. Martha Trace explained a "Book Fair" which is to be held April 6th by Delta Kappa Gamma and asked the Lioness support in this project.

Mrs. Floyd West was introduced as a prospective member, and the president turned the meeting over to the committee in charge. Mrs. Gaynelle Willis, chairman; Mrs. Virginia Vollette, Mrs. Janet Loudner and Mrs. Mona Highfield.

Program and highlight of the evening was a style show presented by Fashion Page Dress Shop. Mr. Vernon Berg, assisted by Mrs. Berg, Miss Helen McKee, Mrs. Frank Hutson and Mrs. Barbara Bartling introduced the lovely fashions which were modeled by Lionesses. The models were Mrs. Mary Kirk, Mrs. Jeanne Grundies, Mrs. Gaynelle Willis, Mrs. Ann Reinke, Mrs. Alma Boyd, Mrs. Mary Pfersick and Mrs. Virginia Vollette. Mr. Berg's comments were very informative and the style show was most enjoyable.

Guests included Miss Mary Lou Highfield, Mrs. Clarence Hayes, Mrs. W. H. Limes, Mrs. Robert Sanderson, Mrs. Willis Coffman, Mrs. Richard Willis, Sr., Mrs. Robert Willis, Mrs. Jim Perrill, Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Douglas, Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, Mrs. Robert Lisk, Mrs. Neil Helfrich, Mrs. Dick Davis, Mrs. Horace Jacobs, Mrs. Herb Sollars, Mrs. M. Mrs. Sydney Bloomer entertained Monday evening with a baby shower for baby, David Haxton, and his mother, Mrs. John Haxton. Amusing contests were presented with prizes being awarded Mrs. Alfred Coe. Miss Blanche McCord and Miss Helen Slavens.

At the close of the evening Mrs. Bloomer served refreshments to the group. Invited guests were Mrs. Delbert Looker, Mrs. Charles Smith, Miss McCord, Miss Mamie Whie, Mrs. Charles Drais, Mrs. Frand Hard, rs. Ed Reser, Mrs. Coe, Miss delaide Wigginton, Miss Slavens, Ms.Dane Feagans, Mrs. Leo Paeltz, Miss Achsah Mayo, Mrs. Malcolm Parrett and Miss Rosa Mae Pierson.

Mrs. Woollard Entertains DAR

Mrs. Fred D. Woollard was a gracious hostess when she welcomed the members of the Washington Court House Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to her lovely home on Rawlings Street Monday afternoon.

The Regent, Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett conducted the meeting which included the Ritual, a prayer by the Chaplain, Miss Golda Baughn, the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America led by the chairman, Mrs. Earl Gidding, and the singing of the National Anthem with accompaniment by Mrs. Walter Craig.

Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, National Defense chairman reported that Mr. Omar Burleson, Representative from Texas and a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee has submitted a resolution which has been referred to the Committee on the Judiciary concerning the curtailment of further admittance of Hungarian refugees to the United States. She gave his reasons for such a resolution which were many and which should be of deep concern to all citizens.

Mrs. Parrett, the Regent, announced that a box of clothing is to be sent to the D. A. R. Kate Duncan Smith School the last of this week and any one having further donations call Mrs. Robert Jefferson. She also reminded the Daughters of the dates of the State Conference which will be held at the Biltmore Hotel in Dayton, March 18, 19, and 20.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. John D. Forsythe, who introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Carl W. Kietzman of Milford.

Mrs. Kietzman is a member of the Speakers' Bureau, a past Regent of the Cincinnati Chapter, the National Defense chairman of her chapter and at present corresponding secretary of the State Organization. She used as the subject for her talk, "The Constitution." She brought out the fact that the average age of the men who designed it was less than thirty years but in spite of their youth they had the forethought and wisdom to see that we should have a government of laws and not of men. She quoted Tallyrand who once said, "Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Her talk was well received and brought forth a lively discussion at its conclusion.

Mrs. Woollard and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. O. D. Farquhar, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. Ray French, Mrs. Homer Harrison, Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, Mrs. James McWilliams, Mrs. Howard Miller, Miss Emma Parrett, Mrs. Horace Wilson, Mrs. McCoy Gardner, Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Mrs. Forest Allen Debra, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. George Gray and Mrs. William VanDen Berg, served delicious refreshments.

Group Begins Spring Study of "Landscaping"

Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a potluck supper Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles Pfersick commemorating the sorority's ninth anniversary here.

Members reviewed the many projects and achievements of the sorority including the annual Christmas party for worthy pre-school children, monthly calls on shut-ins and at nursing homes, provision of clothing and food for a family for several years, contributions to both local and Beta Sigma Phi International health drives for polio, heart, cancer, tuberculosis and others and the cultural program which the group maintains.

President Mrs. Ray Jennings opened the meeting with the ritual and a report was made on proceeds from the plastic hearts in business places by the committee composed of Mrs. Robert Olinger, Mrs. James Lawrence, Mrs. Lee Alderman, Mrs. Ruth Glass. A contribution was voted to the International Endowment Fund and the nominating committee, Mrs. Alderman, Mrs. Harry Campbell and Mrs. George Kuhlwein, reported. Election of officers will be March 18.

The program topic for spring is "Landscaping" and Mrs. Lawrence opened the series with "The Popular Kinds of Shrubs" developing the idea that shrubs consider the finishing touches or accessories for the outside of the home, framing the home, creating hedges, supplying screening when needed. She advocated a thorough knowledge of the type of shrub needed for each specific purpose. Mrs. Lawrence described two popular evergreen shrubs, the juniper, blue-green or silver in color, with prickly foliage and the arbor vitae, green to golden in color, cone shaped with fern-like foliage.

She talked about the 75 varieties of pine shrubs, naming many of the popular ones, also the popular flowering shrubs and illustrated with pictures.

Mrs. Pfersick was assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Guy Briggs, Mrs. Alderman and Mrs. Kuhlwein.

Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Holds Open Meeting

The open meeting for prospective new members of Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Hackemeyer.

Opened in ritualistic form, Mrs. Harry Fichthorn, vice president, welcomed the members and guests and turned the meeting over the the president, Mrs. John Richards who conducted the business session. Roll call was given and minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Rodney Sheline, with Miss Martha Hughes, treasurer, reporting on the chapter finances. Plastic heart containers for the Heart Fund were opened and the money counted. Zeta Upsilon and the sister chapter Xi Beta Psi assisted in the Heart Fund Drive.

Following the discussion of business, the "Purpose and Scope of Beta Sigma Phi" was given by Mrs. William Lawyer; "History of Beta Sigma Phi" by Miss Martha Hughes and the "Outstanding Achievements of the Local Chapter", was given by Mrs. Rodney Sheline.

The cultural program was given by Mrs. Lawrence Burris and she chose the topic "The Art of Thinking," discussing thoroughly the life of Dr. John Dewey, America's foremost thinker. She stressed the point that the first distinguishing characteristic of thinking is facing the facts through inquiry, minute and extensive scrutinizing and observation. Men cannot easily throw off their old habits of thinking and never can throw off all of them at once. Only piece-meal, step-by-step, can the full import of a new science (or a new attitude of thinking) be grasped. Dr. Dewey combined thinking and action to a degree that no other American philosopher ever achieved. He spent many years accumulating further knowledge and experimenting with possible solutions. He was defeated time and time again but always his thinking, conviction and his purpose, remained clear and definite, and as a result his influence led to the most profound educational and social reform that the country has ever known.

Mrs. Burris in her closing remarks, also stressed the power of positive thinking and asked several members to express themselves concerning the topic "The Art of Thinking."

The meeting was adjourned in ritualistic form and a delicious refreshment course was served by Mrs. Hackemeyer.

Mrs. Forrest Dawson and Mrs. Robert Wientjes were guests at the open meeting and members attending were Mrs. John Richards, Mrs. Norman D. "Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 22, a divorcee with one child. My former husband Tom and I are still friends, and he takes the baby one or two days a week.

I have been going with a very nice fellow whom I truly love and respect. Here is the problem: Tom came by the other day and dropped in to see the baby. He was here about 15 minutes when Sam (my boy friend) came in. Well, after Tom left, Sam threw a fit and accused me of almost everything wicked. He said I should throw Tom out when he comes barging in.

Sam doesn't trust me, even though I have tried in every way possible to help him believe I've done nothing wrong.

We want to be married, but have delayed due to a difference in religion—as Sam's church rules out divorce.

Sam isn't talking to me nowadays, except when he thinks of something hurtful to say. I feel like dirt that has been thrown to the wind; and I must have advice soon, before I go completely crazy.

More than once he has called me vile names; and while I don't think he really means them, neither do I think he has any respect for me or he would trust me. Am I wrong? Or is Sam wrong?

P. Y.

DEAR P. Y.: Your boy friend Sam is quite obviously an emotionally sick character. He is self-poisoned by the evil quality of his habitually perverse imaginings about man-woman relationships. The vile names he calls you, and the "dirty" things he thinks and says about you, are simply the product of his chronically self-polluted state of mind—the disclosure of his own debased inclinations.

As the poet Alexander Pope observed, hundreds of years ago: "All seems infected that the infected spy, as all seems yellow to the jaundiced eye." A folk saying puts it more succinctly: "Evil to him who evil thinketh." And the Bible tells us: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

So get it straight, for your own piece of mind, that you aren't responsible for Sam's diseased thinking. And you can't "help" him to have trust in you, because you can't be his soul-physician. That's a job for a clergyman, assisted by psychiatry and God — and given Sam's cooperation. Sam would have to want mental health and moral regeneration wholehearted-ly, and would have to seek it for himself, before a thorough cleansing of his psychology could take place.

Your responsibility is to correct your own mistake—of having become involved with Sam to the extent that he begins to feel free to insult you with foul aspersions, vicious charges and ugly temper tantrums when his emotional sickness gets out-of-hand.

In my opinion, it is a total waste of time and energy to try to put things right between you and Sam. The only remedy (for you) is to be rid of him. He is more enemy than friend in his negative state. To help yourself, in putting aside this wrong alliance, you should (in effect) fly to the protection of prayer and good influences (such as church fellowship).

Lioness Club Meets for Regular Session

Lioness President Eleanor French called the regular meeting of the Lioness Club Tuesday evening at the Country Club to order by the group singing of "America" This was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the invocation given by Mrs. Mona Highfield.

Following the lovely dinner, the secretary's report was given by Mrs. Jane Patton and in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Patton also gave the treasurer's report and read the communications. The Lioness president announced the club will sponsor the Bloodmobile Unit for April 18th and all members were urged to cooperate by Mrs. Irene Wise, who is chairman of the project. A committee report on transportation was given by Mrs. Rosemary Thrailkill who announced forty - five trips had been made to Columbus with eye cases so far this year.

Mrs. French then announced the nominating committee: Mrs. Ann Reinke, Mrs. Emma Griffiths and Mrs. Martha Girton. A directors meeting will be held March 25th at the home of Mrs. Reinke, Mrs. Martha Trace explained a "Book Fair" which is to be held April 6th by Delta Kappa Gamma and asked the Lioness support in this project.

Mrs. Floyd West was introduced as a prospective member, and the president turned the meeting over to the committee in charge. Mrs. Gaynelle Willis, chairman; Mrs. Virginia Vollette, Mrs. Janet Loudner and Mrs. Mona Highfield.

Program and highlight of the evening was a style show presented by Fashion Page Dress Shop. Mr. Vernon Berg, assisted by Mrs. Berg, Miss Helen McKee, Mrs. Frank Hutson and Mrs. Barbara Bartling introduced the lovely fashions which were modeled by Lionesses. The models were Mrs. Mary Kirk, Mrs. Jeanne Grundies, Mrs. Gaynelle Willis, Mrs. Ann Reinke, Mrs. Alma Boyd, Mrs. Mary Pfersick and Mrs. Virginia Vollette. Mr. Berg's comments were very informative and the style show was most enjoyable.

Guests included Miss Mary Lou Highfield, Mrs. Clarence Hayes, Mrs. W. H. Mrs. Sydney Bloomer entertained Monday evening with a baby shower for baby, David Haxton, and his mother, Mrs. John Haxton. Amusing contests were presented with prizes being awarded Mrs. Alfred Coe. Miss Blanche McCord and Miss Helen Slavens.

At the close of the evening Mrs. Bloomer served refreshments to the group. Invited guests were Mrs. Delbert Looker, Mrs. Charles Smith, Miss McCord, Miss Mamie Whie, Mrs. Charles Drais, Mrs. Frand Hard, rs. Ed Reser, Mrs. Coe, Miss delaide Wigginton, Miss Slavens, Ms.Dane Feagans, Mrs. Leo Paeltz, Miss Achsah Mayo, Mrs. Malcolm Parrett and Miss Rosa Mae Pierson.

Mrs. Woollard Entertains DAR

Mrs. Fred D. Woollard was a gracious hostess when she welcomed the members of the Washington Court House Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to her lovely home on Rawlings Street Monday afternoon.

The Regent, Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett conducted the meeting which included the Ritual, a prayer by the Chaplain, Miss Golda Baughn, the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America led by the chairman, Mrs. Earl Gidding, and the singing of the National Anthem with accompaniment by Mrs. Walter Craig.

Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, National Defense chairman reported that Mr. Omar Burleson, Representative from Texas and a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee has submitted a resolution which has been referred to the Committee on the Judiciary concerning the curtailment of further admittance of Hungarian refugees to the United States. She gave his reasons for such a resolution which were many and which should be of deep concern to all citizens.

Mrs. Parrett, the Regent, announced that a box of clothing is to be sent to the D. A. R. Kate Duncan Smith School the last of this week and any one having further donations call Mrs. Robert Jefferson. She also reminded the Daughters of the dates of the State Conference which will be held at the Biltmore Hotel in Dayton, March 18, 19, and 20.

The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. John D. Forsythe, who introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Carl W. Kietzman of Milford.

Mrs. Kietzman is a member of the Speakers' Bureau, a past Regent of the Cincinnati Chapter, the National Defense chairman of her chapter and at present corresponding secretary of the State Organization. She used as the subject for her talk, "The Constitution." She brought out the fact that the average age of the men who designed it was less than thirty years but in spite of their youth they had the forethought and wisdom to see that we should have a government of laws and not of men. She quoted Tallyrand who once said, "Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Her talk was well received and brought forth a lively discussion at its conclusion.

Mrs. Woollard and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. O. D. Farquhar, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. Ray French, Mrs. Homer Harrison, Mrs. C. L. Lewellen, Mrs. James McWilliams, Mrs. Howard Miller, Miss Emma Parrett, Mrs. Horace Wilson, Mrs. McCoy Gardner, Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Mrs. Forest Allen Debra, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. George Gray and Mrs. William VanDen Berg, served delicious refreshments.

Group Begins Spring Study of "Landscaping"

Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a potluck supper Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles Pfersick commemorating the sorority's ninth anniversary here.

Members reviewed the many projects and achievements of the sorority including the annual Christmas party for worthy pre-school children, monthly calls on shut-ins and at nursing homes, provision of clothing and food for a family for several years, contributions to both local and Beta Sigma Phi International health drives for polio, heart, cancer, tuberculosis and others and the cultural program which the group maintains.

President Mrs. Ray Jennings opened the meeting with the ritual and a report was made on proceeds from the plastic hearts in business places by the committee composed of Mrs. Robert Olinger, Mrs. James Lawrence, Mrs. Lee Alderman, Mrs. Ruth Glass. A contribution was voted to the International Endowment Fund and the nominating committee, Mrs. Alderman, Mrs. Harry Campbell and Mrs. George Kuhlwein, reported. Election of officers will be March 18.

The program topic for spring is "Landscaping" and Mrs. Lawrence opened the series with "The Popular Kinds of Shrubs" developing the idea that shrubs constitute the finishing touches or accessories for the outside of the home, framing the home, creating hedges, supplying screening when needed. She advocated a thorough knowledge of the type of shrub needed for each specific purpose. Mrs. Lawrence described two popular evergreen shrubs, the juniper, blue-green or silver in color, with prickly foliage and the arbor vitae. green to golden in color, cone shaped with fernlike foliage.

She talked about the 75 varieties of pine shrubs, naming many of the popular ones, also the popular flowering shrubs and illustrated with pictures.

Mrs. Pfersick was assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Guy Briggs, Mrs. Alderman and Mrs. Kuhlwein.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 22, a divorcee with one child. My former husband Tom and I are still friends, and he takes the baby one or two days a week.

I have been going with a very nice fellow whom I truly love and respect. Here is the problem: Tom came by the other day and dropped in to see the baby. He was there about 15 minutes when Sam (my boy friend) came in. Well, after Tom left, Sam threw a fit and accused me of almost everything wicked. He said I should throw Tom out when he comes barging in.

Sam doesn't trust me, even though I have tried in every way possible to help him believe I've done nothing wrong.

We want to be married, but have delayed due to a difference in religion—as Sam's church rules out divorce.

Sam isn't talking to me nowadays, except when he thinks of something hurtful to say. I feel like dirt that has been thrown to the wind; and I must have advice soon, before I go completely crazy.

More than once he has called me vile names; and while I don't think he really means them, neither do I think he has any respect for me or he would trust me. Am I wrong? Or is Sam wrong?

P. Y.

DEAR P. Y.: Your boy friend Sam is quite obviously an emotionally sick character. He is self-poisoned by the evil quality of his habitually perverse imaginings about man-woman relationships. The vile names he calls you, and the "dirty" things he thinks and says about you, are simply the product of his chronically self-polluted state of mind—the disclosure of his own debased inclinations.

As the poet Alexander Pope observed, hundreds of years ago: "All seems infected that the infected spy, as all seems yellow to the jaundiced eye." A folk saying puts it more succinctly: "Evil to him who evil thinketh." And the Bible tells us: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

So get it straight, for your own piece of mind, that you aren't responsible for Sam's diseased thinking. And you can't "help" him to have trust in you, because you can't be his soul-physician. That's a job for a clergyman, assisted by psychiatry and God — and given Sam's cooperation. Sam would have to want mental health and moral regeneration wholeheartedly, and would have to seek it for himself, before a thorough cleansing of his psychology could take place.

Your responsibility is to correct your own mistake—of having become involved with Sam, to the extent that he begins to feel free to insult you with foul aspersions, vicious charges and ugly temper tantrums when his emotional sickness gets out-of-hand.

In my opinion, it is a total waste of time and energy to try to put things right between you and Sam. The only remedy (for you) is to be rid of him. He is more enemy than friend in his negative state. To help yourself, in putting aside this wrong alliance, you should (in effect) fly to the protection of prayer and good influences (such as church fellowship).

Cost of Living Cause Is Heart Of Old Debate

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—On April 1 the soft coal mines will start paying miners 80 cents more a day. At the same time the mines in the South will raise the price of coal 25 cents a ton and those in the North may take like action.

The cost of living—as measured by the government's consumer price index—has just risen to another new record high. Automatically about 1½ million workers get a raise in hourly wage scales.

The sweet and the sour are closely blended in these two news items. A fatter pay envelope is a thing of joy. Higher monthly bills aren't.

There's nothing unique about these two news items, either. The labor department reports that existing labor contracts call for five million workers to get pay increases this year. Other contracts are up for negotiation this year.

President Eisenhower has urged that both management and labor use voluntary restraint in the matter of seeking higher wages and raising prices. His plea set off again a debate as to what causes the rise in the cost of living. Is it the steady climb in wage scales? Or is it a drive to fatten corporate profits?

The First National City Bank of New York, in its March letter, points out that this debate always crops up during periods of upward price pressures.

Management's argument: Rising prices are due to rising costs. It charges that wages have risen faster than productivity, which is the amount of goods turned out per man hour of work. Management insists that its profit margins, therefore, are shrinking. It points to the 1956 earnings statements, many of which stress that sales volume rose but profits didn't—or, if they did, rose at a much slower rate.

Labor's argument: Profits have risen as fast or faster than wages. So wage increases could have been made out of profits without raising prices. It contends that higher wages should give labor a greater share in the returns of a business operation rather than be an excuse for hiking the price to the consumer.

The U. S. Department of Commerce, in its national income series, reports that in the manufacturing industries total compensation of employes including fringe benefits rose from 44½ billion dollars in 1947 to more than 83 billion in 1956. Corporate income taxes in these industries rose from 6½ billion dollars in 1947 to more than 12 billion in 1956. Profits after taxes in the manufacturing industries rose from 10 billion dollars in 1947 to around 12 billion in 1956. Wage and tax totals almost doubled. Profits didn't.

The bank says this shows "that industry, instead of 'fattening its profits margins', has been fighting a constant battle against rising costs."

Labor leaders have other hardsticks to measure what has been happening and doubtless won't buy the bank's argument.

New Wilmington Reservoir Due

WILMINGTON — The first step in a program to provide for Wilmington's future water supply was disclosed yesterday with the announcement by the Dayton Power & Light Co. that it is exercising its option on a new reservoir site, 2½ miles south of the city.

M. E. Druley, district manager of the company, said about 200 acres of land are involved in the transaction.

Size of the proposed reservoir which will be "upground storage" like the present facility, has not been established yet but indications are that it will greatly exceed 100-million gallon capacity which is the present reservoir's rating.

"Upground storage" means simply that the scooped-out soil is piled around the excavation.

Greenfield Choir Festival Sunday

GREENFIELD — "The Life of Christ," will be the theme of a 140-voice choir festival at 4 p. m. Sunday in the Greenfield High School auditorium, observing the first Sunday in Lent.

Members of the Greenfield Music and Drama club are sponsoring the festival, which will include the work of five adult choirs. Admission is free.

Vandals Sought For Home Damage

WARREN (AP) — The Trumbull County sheriff's office today was seeking vandals who damaged a Negro's home in a predominantly white neighborhood 10 miles south of here.

The home was bought recently by Jacob R. Stahelts of Youngstown, who was renovating it. He had not moved into the house.

Branch College Plan Opens New Opportunities, Rotarians Told

In view of the fact that the Washington C. H. Board of Education already has made application to Ohio University at Athens for establishing a Branch College here, the appearance of Prof. A. C. Gubitz, dean of the O. U. branch colleges in Ohio, as the speaker before Rotarians and guests at their luncheon Tuesday, proved of special interest.

Introduced by W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools, the Ohio University professor, speaking on "A Trend in Higher Education" presented the advantages offered to a community by these branch colleges.

It was learned from Dean Gubitz, that the Washington C. H. application is now before the O. U. Board of Trustees and will be considered at the April meeting of that board. He intimated that an enrollment of approximately 150 students would be required for such a school.

Five such branch colleges are in operation in this part of Ohio at Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Zanesville, Lancaster and Ironton. All of them are proving of major benefit to their communities, it is reported. Others are being considered by the University's trustees.

IT WAS POINTED OUT by the speaker that with the tremendous increase in the number of young people graduating from high schools and the growing percentage of graduates seeking higher education to meet the demands of professions, schools and industries for qualified personnel, in high salaried positions, it is being recognized in several states that the "branch college" and in some instances the "community college", will be the answer toward helping many students get the start they need.

The Branch College plan, it was explained, is opening up the possibilities of higher education in many fields. It is regarded by many educators as a major forward step toward meeting the fast expanding needs in public education, following high school.

OHIO UNIVERSITY, Dean Dubitz explained, has been operating several branch colleges during the last 11 years. When at one time after the great rush of returning veterans following World War II had subsided to some extent and there was talk of discontinuing the venture, civic groups from the three cities where these colleges had been established, came to the university pleading that the work be continued. Other such branch colleges continually were established and the enrollments have increased steadily.

Branch colleges have proved an economical start in higher education, offering stay-at-home students, who may be working part time, the same advantages that Ohio University students enjoy on that institution's home campus, the speaker said.

To establish such a school in any locality, the community is expected to make classroom space available, presumably at its local high school, as well as providing light, heat and custodial service. All administrative personnel and clerical assistance is provided from Ohio University which is reimbursed from student fees of $10 per semester hour for each course selected.

Offered on two-year college freshman and sophomore level, the majority of courses made available by the university in these branch colleges, are in the fields of liberal arts, education and commerce, but elementary engineering courses are available along with classes in accounting, advertising, speech, physical education, business law, government, human relations and many other subjects.

THE UNIVERSITY also is offering a two-year "cadet" teaching program through the branches which lead to training for elementary teaching.

All students enrolled in the branch colleges are considered as "regular students" in the university and receive full residence credit for successful completion of courses.

Most of the teaching staff is drawn from the university faculty, although other qualified instructors are drawn from local high school faculties, industry and the professions. Classes are held in the late afternoon and evening.

Under certain conditions a person of 21 or older may enroll even though he is not a high school graduate.

DEAN GUBITZ told his hearers of visiting and inspecting in other states such as New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Indiana where similar plans are progressing, because the general plan is simple and economical. Several other Ohio universities, including Ohio State, he said are considering such plans.

Following his talk a number of those present remained to question Dean Gubitz further regarding the general plan for branch colleges.

DURING THE CLUB'S business session President Robert Lisk annojnced that the next Rotary "ladies night" here would be a dinner meeting on the evening of April 11.

Special guests of Supt. Smith for the meeting were John Trace, high school principal, and three members of the board of education—Elmer Reed, William Lovell, Milbourne Flee. Charles Pensyl, another member of the board and a Rotarian, also was present.

Student guests presented by John Ellcessor were Ron Knisley and Edward Jones.

Home Demonstration Achievement Day Set

Final plans for Home Demonstration Achievement Day were made by the Fayette County Home Demonstration Council Tuesday at the Farm Bureau auditorium. Achievement Day, Friday, April 5, will start at 11 a. m. with a covered dish luncheon at the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium.

Each Home Demonstration Club was assigned a dish to bring to the meeting. Mrs. Carrie Wilson, the chairman, made the report to the council.

Exhibits at Achievement Day will include one article from each project included in Home Demonstration work from its beginning in Fayette County.

Miss Louise Ritter, Council president, announced that Ohio will be the scene of the National Home Demonstration meeting in September, 1957.

The Council completed work on next year's program. Special interest groups will be held in tailored suits taught by Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home economics agent, and in refinishing of furniture, taught by leaders in the county who have attended classes previously.

The number of subjects covered in Home Demonstration Club meetings will depend on the time needed for those chosen by the Council.

Mrs. Locie Eckle gave the report of the secretary-treasurer. Roll call was answered by 15 clubs with 25 women present.

National Forests Yield More Timber

NEW YORK — National forests yield more and more timber. The government predicts it will sell nearly 8.8 billion board feet from federal woodlands, double the harvest five years ago and about 15 per cent of the timber cut in the U. S.

Blood Research Unit Formed in Columbus

Research aimed at finding cures for such incurable blood diseases as leukemia is the objective of a new Columbus chapter of the National Blood Research Foundation, W. B. Tooker, a member here, announced.

Made up largely of people who have lost a loved one through leukemia, the chapter aims to collect money and generally further the cause of blood reserch. It is affiliated with the national foundation, which has offices in Chicago.

Coordination of research activities and aid to those suffering from blood diseases are among other major objectives of the organization, Tooker said.

Meetings are held at 7:30 p. m. on the first Friday of each month at the Columbus YWCA, Tooker said.

Past speakers at Columbus meetings have been noted experts on blood diseases from throughout Ohio. President of the chapter there is Mrs. Bette Todd, 585 Chatham Rd., Columbus.

Other chapters are being formed throughout Ohio, as well as in many other states, Tooker noted.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

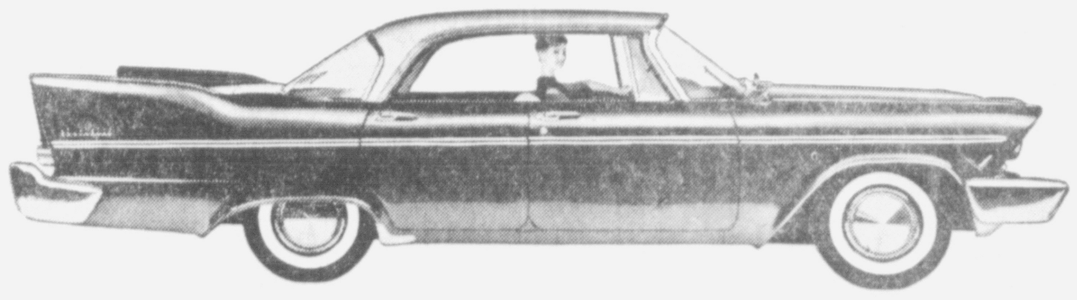

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—On April 1 the soft coal mines will start paying miners 80 cents more a day. At the same time the mines in the South will raise the price of coal 25 cents a ton and those in the North may take like action.

The cost of living—as measured by the government's consumer price index—has just risen to another new record high. Automatically about 1½ million workers get a raise in hourly wage scales.

The sweet and the sour are closely blended in these two news items. A fatter pay envelope is a thing of joy. Higher monthly bills aren't.

There's nothing unique about these two news items, either. The labor department reports that existing labor contracts call for five million workers to get pay increases this year. Other contracts are up for negotiation this year.

President Eisenhower has urged that both management and labor use voluntary restraint in the matter of seeking higher wages and raising prices. His plea set off again a debate as to what causes the rise in the cost of living. Is it the steady climb in wage scales? Or is it a drive to fatten corporate profits?

The First National City Bank of New York, in its March letter, points out that this debate always crops up during periods of upward price pressures.

Management's argument: Rising prices are due to rising costs. It charges that wages have risen faster than productivity, which is the amount of goods turned out per man hour of work. Management insists that its profit margins, therefore, are shrinking. It points to the 1956 earnings statements, many of which stress that sales volume rose but profits didn't—or, if they did, rose at a much slower rate.

Labor's argument: Profits have risen as fast or faster than wages. So wage increases could have been made out of profits without raising prices. It contends that higher wages should give labor a greater share in the returns of a business operation rather than be an excuse for hiking the price to the consumer.

The U. S. Department of Commerce, in its national income series, reports that in the manufacturing industries total compensation of employes including fringe benefits rose from 44½ billion dollars in 1947 to more than 83 billion in 1956. Corporate income taxes in these industries rose from 6½ billion dollars in 1947 to more than 12 billion in 1956. Profits after taxes in the manufacturing industries rose from 10 billion dollars in 1947 to around 12 billion in 1956. Wage and tax totals almost doubled. Profits didn't.

The bank says this shows "that industry, instead of 'fattening its profits margins', has been fighting a constant battle against rising costs."

Labor leaders have other hardsticks to measure what has been happening and doubtless won't buy the bank's argument.

New Wilmington Reservoir Due

WILMINGTON — The first step in a program to provide for Wilmington's future water supply was disclosed yesterday with the announcement by the Dayton Power & Light Co. that it is exercising its option on a new reservoir site, 2½ miles south of the city.

"Upground storage" means simply that the scooped-out soil is piled around the excavation.

Branch College Plan Opens New Opportunities, Rotarians Told

In view of the fact that the Washington C. H. Board of Education already has made application to Ohio University at Athens for establishing a Branch College here, the appearance of Prof. A. C. Gubitz, dean of the O. U. branch colleges in Ohio, as the speaker before Rotarians and guests at their luncheon Tuesday, proved of special interest.

Introduced by W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools, the Ohio University professor, speaking on "A Trend in Higher Education" presented the advantages offered to a community by these branch colleges.

It was learned from Dean Gubitz, that the Washington C. H. application is now before the O. U. Board of Trustees and will be considered at the April meeting of that board. He intimated that an enrollment of approximately 150 students would be required for such a school.

Five such branch colleges are in operation in this part of Ohio at Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Zanesville, Lancaster and Ironton. All of them are proving of major benefit to their communities, it is reported. Others are being considered by the University's trustees.

IT WAS POINTED OUT by the speaker that with the tremendous increase in the number of young people graduating from high schools and the growing percentage of graduates seeking higher education to meet the demands of professions, schools and industries for qualified personnel, in high salaried positions, it is being recognized in several states that the "branch college" and in some instances the "community college", will be the answer toward helping many students get the start they need.

The Branch College plan, it was explained, is opening up the possibilities of higher education in many fields. It is regarded by many educators as a major forward step toward meeting the fast expanding needs in public education, following high school.

OHIO UNIVERSITY, Dean Dubitz explained, has been operating several branch colleges during the last 11 years. When at one time after the great rush of returning veterans following World War II had subsided to some extent and there was talk of discontinuing the venture, civic groups from the three cities where these colleges had been established, came to the university pleading that the work be continued. Other such branch colleges continually were established and the enrollments have increased steadily.

Branch colleges have proved an economical start in higher education, offering stay-at-home students, who may be working part time, the same advantages that Ohio University students enjoy on that institution's home campus, the speaker said.

To establish such a school in any locality, the community is expected to make classroom space available, presumably at its local high school, as well as providing light, heat and custodial service. All administrative personnel and clerical assistance is provided from Ohio University which is reimbursed from student fees of $10 per semester hour for each course selected.

Offered on two-year college freshman and sophomore level, the majority of courses made available by the university in these branch colleges, are in the fields of liberal arts, education and commerce, but elementary engineering courses are available along with classes in accounting, advertising, speech, physical education, business law, government, human relations and many other subjects.

THE UNIVERSITY also is offering a two-year "cadet" teaching program through the branches which lead to training for elementary teaching.

All students enrolled in the branch colleges are considered as "regular students" in the university and receive full residence credit for successful completion of courses.

Most of the teaching staff is drawn from the university faculty, although other qualified instructors are drawn from local high school faculties, industry and the professions. Classes are held in the late afternoon and evening.

Under certain conditions a person of 21 or older may enroll even though he is not a high school graduate.

DEAN GUBITZ told his hearers of visiting and inspecting in other states such as New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Indiana where similar plans are progressing, because the general plan is simple and economical. Several other Ohio universities, including Ohio State, he said are considering such plans.

Following his talk a number of those present remained to question Dean Gubitz further regarding the general plan for branch colleges.

DURING THE CLUB'S business session President Robert Lisk annojnced that the next Rotary "ladies night" here would be a dinner meeting on the evening of April 11.

Special guests of Supt. Smith for the meeting were John Trace, high school principal, and three members of the board of education—Elmer Reed, William Lovell, Milbourne Flee. Charles Pensyl, another member of the board and a Rotarian, also was present.

Student guests presented by John Ellcessor were Ron Knisley and Edward Jones.

Home Demonstration Achievement Day Set

Final plans for Home Demonstration Achievement Day were made by the Fayette County Home Demonstration Council Tuesday at the Farm Bureau auditorium. Achievement Day, Friday, April 5, will start at 11 a. m. with a covered dish luncheon at the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium.

Each Home Demonstration Club was assigned a dish to bring to the meeting. Mrs. Carrie Wilson, the chairman, made the report to the council.

Exhibits at Achievement Day will include one article from each project included in Home Demonstration work from its beginning in Fayette County.

Miss Louise Ritter, Council president, announced that Ohio will be the scene of the National Home Demonstration meeting in September, 1957.

The Council completed work on next year's program. Special interest groups will be held in tailored suits taught by Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home economics agent, and in refinishing of furniture, taught by leaders in the county who have attended classes previously.

The number of subjects covered in Home Demonstration Club meetings will depend on the time needed for those chosen by the Council.

Mrs. Locie Eckle gave the report of the secretary-treasurer. Roll call was answered by 15 clubs with 25 women present.

National Forests Yield More Timber

NEW YORK — National forests yield more and more timber. The government predicts it will sell nearly 8.8 billion board feet from federal woodlands, double the harvest five years ago and about 15 per cent of the timber cut in the U. S.

4-H Club Activities

MODERN MISSES

The New Martinsburg Modern Misses met Friday at the New Martinsburg school.

The meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge and all the old and new members were given 4-H club cards to fill out.

New officers elected are:

This year's members are Janet Ritter, Brenda Rowe, Carolyn Carson, Ruth Ann Carson, Carolyn Smith, Judy Thompson, Mary Roush, Darlene Watson, Mildred Watson and Blanche Mootispaw.

Projects the girls are taking were discussed.

The next meeting will be held at the club's new advisor's home, Mrs. Jean Hoppes on March 11th at 7:30 p. m.

BUZZ'N DUZZ'N

It was called to order by the retiring president, Joanna DeWtese, who led the 4-H Pledge. Officers elected were: president, Mary Jo Minton; vice-president, Kathy Allen; secretary, Sandra Lane; treasurer, Frances Klontz; news reporter, Linda Young; health leader, Helen Sheeley; safety leader, Ruth Ann Sheeley; recreation leaders, Jeanie Creamer and Bonnie Minshall.

The club made plans for the next meeting. Projects will be discussed then. Vice - president will act as program chairman.

Those present were Mary Jo Minton. Bonnie Minshall, Kathy Allen, Helen Sheeley, Ruth Ann Sheeley. Frances Klontz, Sandra Lane, Jo Ann DeWeese, Jeanie Creamer and Linda Young. A special invitation is extended for all parents to attend the next meeting on March 13. Refreshments will be served.

BUSY HOMEMAKERS 4-H CLUB

The meeting was held at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Robert Miller.

The meeting was opened with poem read by Jane Whiteside.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Maureen Smith.

The treasury report was given by Mary Kay West.

The new constitution was read by Marilyn Miller.

Committee reports were given. The meeting was closed with the 4-H pledge.

After the meeting the project books were given to the girls and refreshments were served by the hostessees, Donna Burke and Kay Rhoads.

Hobby Club Sets Meeting Friday

Roscoe Whiteside, president of the Fayette County Hobby Club, siad Tuesday that a program is being arranged for the meeting of the club at 6:30 p. m. Friday in the City Building.

The customary carry-in supper will precede the business meeting. Whiteside asks that everyone bring something of interest, old or new, for display and comment.

Blood Research Unit Formed in Columbus

Research aimed at finding cures for such incurable blood diseases as leukemia is the objective of a new Columbus chapter of the National Blood Research Foundation, W. B. Tooker, a member here, announced.

Made up largely of people who have lost a loved one through leukemia, the chapter aims to collect money and generally further the cause of blood research. It is affiliated with the national foundation, which has offices in Chicago.

Coordination of research activities and aid to those suffering from blood diseases are among other major objectives of the organization, Tooker said.

Meetings are held at 7:30 p. m. on the first Friday of each month at the Columbus YWCA, Tooker said.

Past speakers at Columbus meetings have been noted experts on blood diseases from throughout Ohio. President of the chapter there is Mrs. Bette Todd, 585 Chatham Rd., Columbus.

Other chapters are being formed throughout Ohio, as well as in many other states, Tooker noted.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

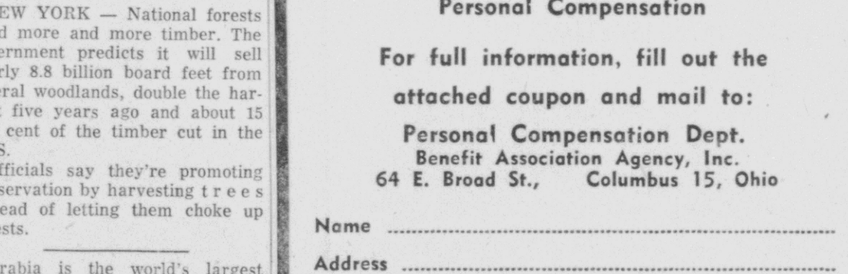

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

New, Calmer Appraisal Heard Over Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A third force of calmer appraisal is beginning to appear today in the battle between the optimists and the pessimists in the business world.

Optimists on the future of business ruled the field in December with predictions of better days ahead.

Pessimists grew loud in the last two months with warnings that the economy was in for a cyclical adjustment. Stock market tremors resulted from these fears.

With the approach of spring the usual end-of-the-winter blues may subside. The middle of the road observers are beginning now to point out that the good and bad factors in the economy are pretty well balancing each other.

Even fears of further inflation are moderating in some quarters. Dr. Paul W. McCraken, recently named member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, thinks pressure on wages and prices will be less intensive this year than last, when the cost of living rose 3 per cent. A runaway price spiral is out of the picture now, he holds.

Still rising operational costs and shrinking profit margins will continue to pinch many companies, however. Sales outlooks in some industries indicate less than capacity production. Cutbacks in work weeks are expected in others.

But, at the same time, the outlook in other industries is brighter than ever. Some Wall Street investment advisers say they look for gains this year in the profits of some industries, and especially of the larger companies in those industries. Cited are oil, farm equipment, office equipment and steel, among others.

Moderates base their views on signs that consumers will go on spending about as much—maybe a little more—this year. Business spending to build up inventories may slow down a little and this would hurt the industries supplying the ones who put back.

But the consumer is expected to go on spending—if not on the things he bought so freely in 1955, on the things he showed preference for in 1956.

Martin Gainsbrugh, chief economist for the National Industrial Conference Board, believes consumers will spend heavily in coming months for nondurable goods (like clothing, food and gasoline), for services and for recreation.

As far as the economy as a whole is concerned, this spending should offset a decline in purchases of durable goods (like autos and home appliances) from the peak hit in 1955.

Any further drop in home building could be offset by high spending on commercial, industrial and public construction.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers says the total dollar volume of goods and services could rise from 1956's 412 billion dollars to 430 billion this year.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Recently I carried in this column an article about a violin owned by James Blakeman, which apparently was made in Italy and bore certain inscription to indicate it was one of the famous Stradivarius violins, which are valued up to $50,000.

Since the article appeared I have had information from three other persons in Fayette County, who have violins with very similar inscription in them, and Blakeman tells me he also has heard of two or three.

This would indicate that this particular type of violin is rather plentiful in Fayette County, and if there are so many of them here, the number throughout the United States must be rather staggering.

Indications are that all of the violins containing the marking are not as old as the date inside would show, and that in all probability, they are not worth as much, or at least no more, than countless other violins of American and other makes.

In my previous story I mentioned having seen one of the "Straduiarius Cremonefis" type of violin owned by a man named Williams, in Bloomingburg, 50 years ago.

J. M. Allemang telephoned me that it has been in his possession for many years. The former owner was certain that it was a genuine "Strad" or Stradivarius, and worth a great deal of money, which, of course, was not the case.

THOUSANDS OF LAMBS

I have never seen so many lambs in the community as I have during the past two weeks. There are thousands of them and many more to arrive.

On nearly every farm where there are sheep, (and the animals are to be found on a surprisingly large number of farms), there are large numbers of lambs, many of them only a few days old.

The first lambs I saw this year, early in January, were finding life very difficult by reason of the snow and cold, but most of these out-of-season lambs were given protection until they acquired sufficient age to withstand the cold.

"SNOW FENCES"

During the present winter, the State Highway Department erected red picket "snow fences" at many points along main highways, and it is the first time this has been done at least in this part of Ohio.

Such fences are supposed to be located at points where highways might drift full of snow during heavy snowstorms when the wind is blowing.

It has only been about "once in a blue moon" that such fences are needed to prevent roads being blocked, and than it is problematical whether or not the fences would do the work.

There are several stretches of these picket fences, set about 100 feet or so from the highways, in this county. The fences are supported by steel posts driven into the ground, so they can be removed and rolled up for storage during the warm months, then replaced by driving the stakes in the ground and attaching the fencing as winter approaches once more.

With modern road cleaning equipment, it is rare indeed that such fences are needed.

There have been few occasions in the last 25 years when snowplows were not equal to clearing the highways promptly and keeping them clean.

It would be interesting to know how many miles of these picket fences have been purchased by the State Highway Department in the sudden move to prevent highways drifting full of snow.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

During this week in 1927 Leo Halterman, found guilty of the first degree murder of his half-brother, Charles Halterman, was sentenced to die in the electric chair June 17, and was taken to "death row" in the Ohio Penitentiary to await execution.

Judge C. A. Reid passed sentence, and the diminutive man took his sentence calmly. He was immediately taken to the institution by Sheriff R. S. Ramsay and deputies.

Halterman was the smallest man ever electrocuted in the big prison, and special adjustments of the electric chair were necessary, it was announced by prison officials.

Sears and Nichols Canning Co. announced, through Manager Harry Hyer, that peas and corn would be packed by the plant here.

Fire charred the floor and woodwork near the furnace in the YMCA building, but quick work prevented spread of the flames.

State Route 24 had been rebuilt from Leesburg to Cincinnati.

Plans were made by Council for resurfacing East St., which had been paved with brick, and was showing signs of disintegrating.

Railroad Chided For Cut in Service

CLEVELAND (AP) — Assistant Postmaster General E. George Siedle has added to a series of exchanges on truck-vs-rail mail haulers with a criticism of a railroad for cutting service.

In a letter to John W. Barriger, president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad, Siedle said that P&LE lost mail contracts because of trains it had dropped and because "the timing of its schedules is not conductive to satisfactory mail service."

The letter was in reply to a P&LE letter which charged that the postoffice had not given adequate notice of unsatisfactory service.

GE Wire Factory Strike Is Ended

CLEVELAND (AP) — Workers are returning to the General Electric Co.'s Cleveland wire plant in Euclid following settlement of a five-day strike.

The walkout ended shortly before midnight Monday night when nine metal-treating machine operators, whose grievance about removing and replacing equipment led to the strike, accepted terms agreed to earlier by representatives of the company and Local 707, International Union of Electrical Workers.

Another Bill-Filing Mark Set in Ohio's Legislature

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature did it again Tuesday night—set another new record for introduction of bills, that is.

Lawmakers practically emptied the wastebaskets in what looked from the sidelines like an effort to set another new record or bust.

When the 102nd General Assembly slammed the gates on further introduction of bills, the legislative hopper was filling over with 1,374 measures. The previous record of 1,355 was set in 1955

Senate Majority Leader C Stanley Mechem wagged his head in amused wonderment as senators sent 75 proposed laws to the rostrum to set a new Senate record of 437 bills, 19 more than in 1955.

The House didn't get its 937th—and last—bill until late evening. That total was exactly the same as the House received in the entire regular session two years ago.

In all, the Legislature received 357 bills Tuesday.

With the gigantic task of bill introduction completed the Legislature swung immediately to the task of voting on worthy measures.

The Senate, which has passed only two bills since it first met Jan. 7, scheduled floor votes on three measures this afternoon.

One is an emergency bill to permit the highway director to hire outside help to negotiate the purchase of needed highway right-of-way. The measure is part of the highway program of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

It is expected to go booming through both houses of the GOP-dominated Legislature.

The House also scheduled floor votes on three bills today. They included measures to:

Tighten control of Bang's disease through required tests prior to sale or exchange of cattle.

Grant possession of the carcass of a deer killed by a car to the car's owner—provided the auto was damaged by the impact.

The House passed Tuesday and sent to the Senate a bill to give financial help to private bus firms in major Ohio cities. The House voted 120-13 to cut license fees of motor coaches to $10 a year. The fees now average $300 a year.

Sponsor John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin) said his bill would help bus firms now facing bankruptcy to "hold their own" without raising fares. He estimated the fee cut would save the bus companies about $340,000 a year.

A proposal for an investigation of nursing and rest homes died in the House Welfare Committee when the group voted 11-6 to postpone further consideration indefinitely.

A proposal to adopt "Imperio in Imperium" (an empire within an empire) as state motto and include it in the state seal was defeated in Senate Committee on State Government.

The senate's Code Revision Committee recommended passage of a bill to set up an administrative procedure law for cities.

Grace Church Plans DuBois Oratorio For Easter Season

"The Seven Last Words of Christ," an oratorio by DuBois, will be presented at Grace Methodist Church during the Easter season, Choir Director Robert Neumann announce today.

The chorus and soloists will come from churches from all parts of the city, Neumann said.

Rehearsals will be held at 9 p. m. each Thursday, starting this week, Neumann said, adding that anyone is welcome to attend. He would especially like to have those who helped present Handel's "Mesiah" at Christmas time he said.

You Can Expect Almost Anybody At This Party!

Elvis Presley, James Dean, President Eisenhower, Micky Mantle, Marilyn Monroe and Donald Duck are among those expected at a Washington C. H. High School band party Friday night at the Country Club.

Well, almost!

The party is being run on a "come - as - your - favorite - personality" theme, and band members dressed as all the above-named notables are expected to be on the guest list.

Costume prizes, games and dancing will highlight the event, which will run from 8 p. m. to midnight. Band members and their dates will be in attendance.

Medical Students Plan WCH Visit

Six medical students from the University of Cincinnati will visit Washington C. H. at noon Wednesday, March 13, during an observation tour of public health procedures.

They will go first, during the morning of that day, to Chillicothe to inspect work of the health departments in that city and county and will be met there by Dr. Benton V. D. Scott health commissioner for this district.

Upon arrival here they will be taken first to the Fayette County Memorial Hospital where they have been invited for lunch and for an inspection of the hospital immediately afterward.

The group will then be taken to the offices of the Health Department to study procedures.

Each year one or more groups of medical students from the University of Cincinnati select localities for such trips. Last year a similar group visited this county for a half day.

One room in the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico is over a half mile in length; 400 feet wide.

New, Calmer Appraisal Heard Over Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A third force of calmer appraisal is beginning to appear today in the battle between the optimists and the pessimists in the business world.

Optimists on the future of business ruled the field in December with predictions of better days ahead.

Pessimists grew loud in the last two months with warnings that the economy was in for a cyclical adjustment. Stock market tremors resulted from these fears.

With the approach of spring the usual end-of-the-winter blues may subside. The middle of the road observers are beginning now to point out that the good and bad factors in the economy are pretty well balancing each other.

Even fears of further inflation are moderating in some quarters. Dr. Paul W. McCraken, recently named member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, thinks pressure on wages and prices will be less intensive this year than last, when the cost of living rose 3 per cent. A runaway price spiral is out of the picture now, he holds.

Still rising operational costs and shrinking profit margins will continue to pinch many companies, however. Sales outlooks in some industries indicate less than capacity production. Cutbacks in work weeks are expected in others.

But, at the same time, the outlook in other industries is brighter than ever. Some Wall Street investment advisers say they look for gains this year in the profits of some industries, and especially of the larger companies in those industries. Cited are oil, farm equipment, office equipment and steel, among others.

Moderates base their views on signs that consumers will go on spending about as much—maybe a little more—this year. Business spending to build up inventories may slow down a little and this would hurt the industries supplying the ones who cut back.

But the consumer is expected to go on spending—if not on the things he bought so freely in 1955, on the things he showed preference for in 1956.

Martin Gainsbrugh, chief economist for the National Industrial Conference Board, believes consumers will spend heavily in coming months for nondurable goods (like clothing, food and gasoline), for services and for recreation.

As far as the economy as a whole is concerned, this spending should offset a decline in purchases of durable goods (like autos and home appliances) from the peak hit in 1955.

Any further drop in home building could be offset by high spending on commercial, industrial and public construction.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers says the total dollar volume of goods and services could rise from 1956's 412 billion dollars to 430 billion this year.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Recently I carried in this column an article about a violin owned by James Blakeman, which apparently was made in Italy and bore certain inscription to indicate it was one of the famous Stradivarius violins, which are valued up to $50,000.

Since the article appeared I have had information from three other persons in Fayette County, who have violins with very similar inscription in them, and Blakeman tells me he also has heard of two or three.

This would indicate that this particular type of violin is rather plentiful in Fayette County, and if there are so many of them here, the number throughout the United States must be rather staggering.

Indications are that all of the violins containing the marking are not as old as the date inside would show, and that in all probability, they are not worth as much, or at least no more, than countless other violins of American and other makes.

In my previous story I mentioned having seen one of the "Straduarius Cremonefis" type of violin owned by a man named Williams, in Bloomingburg, 50 years ago.

J. M. Allemang telephoned me that it has been in his possession for many years. The former owner was certain that it was a genuine "Strad" or Stradivarius, and worth a great deal of money, which, of course, was not the case.

THOUSANDS OF LAMBS

I have never seen so many lambs in the community as I have during the past two weeks. There are thousands of them and many more to arrive.

On nearly every farm where there are sheep, (and the animals are to be found on a surprisingly large number of farms), there are large numbers of lambs, many of them only a few days old.

The first lambs I saw this year, early in January, were finding life very difficult by reason of the snow and cold, but most of these out-of-season lambs were given protection until they acquired sufficient age to withstand the cold.

"SNOW FENCES"

During the present winter, the State Highway Department erected red picket "snow fences" at many points along main highways, and it is the first time this has been done at least in this part of Ohio.

Such fences are supposed to be located at points where highways might drift full of snow during heavy snowstorms when the wind is blowing.

It has only been about "once in a blue moon" that such fences are needed to prevent roads being blocked, and than it is problematical whether or not the fences would do the work.

There are several stretches of these picket fences, set about 100 feet or so from the highways, in this county. The fences are supported by steel posts driven into the ground, so they can be removed and rolled up for storage during the warm months, then replaced by driving the stakes in the ground and attaching the fencing as winter approaches once more.

With modern road cleaning equipment, it is rare indeed that such fences are needed.

There have been few occasions in the last 25 years when snowplows were not equal to clearing the highways promptly and keeping them clean.

It would be interesting to know how many miles of these picket fences have been purchased by the State Highway Department in the sudden move to prevent highways drifting full of snow.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

During this week in 1927 Leo Halterman, found guilty of the first degree murder of his half-brother, Charles Halterman, was sentenced to die in the electric chair June 17, and was taken to "death row" in the Ohio Penitentiary to await execution.

Judge C. A. Reid passed sentence, and the diminutive man took his sentence calmly. He was immediately taken to the institution by Sheriff R. S. Ramsay and deputies.

Halterman was the smallest man ever electrocuted in the big prison, and special adjustments of the electric chair were necessary, it was announced by prison officials.

Sears and Nichols Canning Co. announced, through Manager Harry Hyer, that peas and corn would be packed by the plant here.

Fire charred the floor and woodwork near the furnace in the YMCA building, but quick work prevented spread of the flames.

State Route 24 had been rebuilt from Leesburg to Cincinnati.

Plans were made by Council for resurfacing East St., which had been paved with brick, and was showing signs of disintegrating.

Railroad Chided For Cut in Service

CLEVELAND (AP) — Assistant Postmaster General E. George Siedle has added to a series of exchanges on truck-vs-rail mail haulers with a criticism of a railroad for cutting service.

In a letter to John W. Barriger, president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad, Siedle said that P&LE lost mail contracts because of trains it had dropped and because "the timing of its schedules is not conductive to satisfactory mail service."

The letter was in reply to a P&LE letter which charged that the postoffice had not given adequate notice of unsatisfactory service.

GE Wire Factory Strike Is Ended

CLEVELAND (AP) — Workers are returning to the General Electric Co.'s Cleveland wire plant in Euclid following settlement of a five-day strike.

The walkout ended shortly before midnight Monday night when nine metal-treating machine operators, whose grievance about removing and replacing equipment led to the strike, accepted terms agreed to earlier by representatives of the company and Local 707, International Union of Electrical Workers.

Another Bill-Filing Mark Set in Ohio's Legislature

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature did it again Tuesday night—set another new record for introduction of bills, that is.

Lawmakers practically emptied the wastebaskets in what looked from the sidelines like an effort to set another new record or bust.

When the 102nd General Assembly slammed the gates on further introduction of bills, the legislative hopper was filling over with 1,374 measures. The previous record of 1,355 was set in 1955.

Senate Majority Leader C Stanley Mechem wagged his head in amused wonderment as senators sent 75 proposed laws to the rostrum to set a new Senate record of 437 bills, 19 more than in 1955.

The House didn't get its 937th—and last—bill until late evening. That total was exactly the same as the House received in the entire regular session two years ago.

In all, the Legislature received 357 bills Tuesday.

With the gigantic task of bill introduction completed the Legislature swung immediately to the task of voting on worthy measures.

The Senate, which has passed only two bills since it first met Jan. 7, scheduled floor votes on three measures this afternoon.

One is an emergency bill to permit the highway director to hire outside help to negotiate the purchase of needed highway right-of-way. The measure is part of the highway program of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

It is expected to go booming through both houses of the GOP-dominated Legislature.

The House also scheduled floor votes on three bills today. They included measures to:

Tighten control of Bang's disease through required tests prior to sale or exchange of cattle.

Grant possession of the carcass of a deer killed by a car to the car's owner—provided the auto was damaged by the impact.

The House passed Tuesday and sent to the Senate a bill to give financial help to private bus firms in major Ohio cities. The House voted 120-13 to cut license fees of motor coaches to $10 a year. The fees now average $300 a year.

Sponsor John J. Chester Jr. (R-Franklin) said his bill would help bus firms now facing bankruptcy to "hold their own" without raising fares. He estimated the fee cut would save the bus companies about $340,000 a year.

A proposal for an investigation of nursing and rest homes died in the House Welfare Committee when the group voted 11-6 to postpone further consideration indefinitely.

A proposal to adopt "Imperio in Imperium" (an empire within an empire) as state motto and include it in the state seal was defeated in the Senate Committee on State Government.

The senate's Code Revision Committee recommended passage of a bill to set up an administrative procedure law for cities.

What Did Highway Council Accomplish in Short Life?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill last week signed a bill, sponsored by his administration, abolishing the Ohio Highway Construction Council.

What did the council accomplish during its 3½ years of life? Did it help expedite Ohio's road program or did it slow it down?

In asking the Legislature to abolish the council O'Neill said it had accomplished its purpose. It was about that time the council handed O'Neill a 420 million dollar program for major thoroughfares for the next two years.

The council was created by a Republican Legislature to keep an eye on the highway program of a Democratic administration. Both the Legislature and administration are Republican now.

The Legislature authorized 500 million dollars in bonds to finance a speeded-up improvement program on main Ohio roads. And the council was instructed to designate a major thoroughfare system and was given the last word on projects on the system.

The council under chairmanship of Clingan Jackson, Youngstown newsman, got to work promptly. After many hearings and meetings with persons from throughout Ohio, it designated 6,200 miles of roads as major thoroughfares. And it gave other classifications to the rest of Ohio's 18,000 miles of roads.

Then began the continuous task of deciding which roads should be improved first and how the work should be financed.

The council worked closely with the Ohio Department of Highways, step by step, working out 316 projects to provide 1,278 miles of improvements to the major thoroughfare system at a cost of 520 million dollars.

By the first of this year all but 43 projects involving 283 miles of road at an estimated cost of 114 million dollars had been placed under contract. These 43 projects will be ready for bids by road-builders by June 30, the council reported to Gov. O'Neill.

This means that many of the highway improvements motorists now enjoy and others that will be made in the next few years resulted from projects approved and given the green light by the council.

The council also has worked out projects for the next two years, approving engineering reports and plans for 87 projects costing 353 million dollars that will be the basis for O'Neill's immediate road program.

That is because those are the only plans that are in the hands of the governor at this time. The governor also has the council's plan to buy 61 million dollars worth of land needed in the future for 111 projects.

Projects for the next two years approved by the council involve 20 traffic bypasses around communities totaling 113 miles, 45 rural projects that would add 230 miles of new roads and 22 city projects involving 24 miles of road.

Since the council was formed the huge federal interstate road program entered the picture. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of improvements to the interstate system which includes 1,300 miles of Ohio roads.

Ohio's major thoroughfare program enabled the state to take immediate advantage of the new federal aid. The Buckeye state now leads the nation in interstate projects under contract.

Ten interstate projects involving 48 million dollars will be ready for bid-taking during the first half of this year, and 71 million dollars in federal interstate funds has been set aside for Ohio for this year, the council told the governor. And Ohio is working on plans for 20 more federal projects that will cost about 200 million dollars.

In the main the council and highway department worked harmoniously. There were some differences of opinion over some individual projects. The main split in their thinking was over how the cost of projects in the big cities should be shared.

The department said cities should pay only 5 per cent, the council insisted on 10 per cent, so more state money would be available for other roads.

The attorney general — now the governor — settled the question by ruling the council had no authority to set the amount for local participation.

Some persons believe the council duplicated work of the highway department, thus slowing down work on projects. Figures show the department contracted for 74 million dollars of road work in 1953. The council was formed late in that year.

In 1954 the figure rose to 115 million dollars, to 197 million dollars in 1955 and to nearly 224 million dollars last year.

Veteran department engineers who worked closely with the council say the Legislature made additional steps in road-building necessary. 'Wherever several groups of persons work on the same thing, some delay results' they said.

Yet they consider the council did "a very good job," and was a "watchdog" over the 500 million dollar state bond issue for roads.

When the council existed the Legislature virtually had its representatives right in the middle of the highway program. Department engineers said that resulted in the Legislature having more confidence in the highway program.

The council itself believed its reports to the Legislature, various officials and general public "brought highway programming under a widespread public scrutiny and has helped maintain public confidence in the state highway programs." That's the language in the council's final report.

The council also was a buffer between pressure groups wanting specific road improvements and the governor and highway department.

Before the council was established, the department and governor met many times with such groups. When the council was a going concern they could refer visitors to the council with "we can't do anything until the council acts."

And the council met with them, discussing everything from traffic lights and city routing to multi-million dollar superhighways to untangle traffic. This gave the department more time for actual roadbuilding.

The council decided at the beginning not to become a mere rubber stamp of the highway department. Members Jackson, Wilbur M. Cotton and Jesse E. Van Fossen and their executive secretary, Lauren Glosser, visited sites of proposed projects and asked a lot of questions.

Sometimes the answers they got enabled them to change the department's thinking on some projects. They also revisited some projects during various planning stages.

They traveled over every one of the 6,200 miles they placed on the major thoroughfare system and could give driving times between any two points in Ohio.

They had their programs ready for the Legislature by mid-January, both this year and in 1955. The new administration still is working on a road program for which it will ask the Legislature to appropriate money.

Most of its decisions were final, but there was no question that Jackson directed the council.

There are some who feel the council was abolished too soon. They think the council program should be submitted to the Legislature after a study by the governor, and the council should follow through on any changes necessary.

Others feel the proper time to abolish the council was when administrations changed. That's what happened.

Knowland Keeps His Foot in Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Knowland (Calif) has declined to rule out the possibility he might seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

Knowland said in response to questions on the 1960 presidential situation:

"I don't think any person can say in 1957 what the conditions may be in 1960. I neither ruled it in nor ruled it out."

Knowland has announced plans to retire from the Senate at the expiration of his term in January 1959. Told that some view this as a step toward seeking the California governorship, then the presidency, Knowland replied:

Non-Collusion Bid Procedure Gets OK

The governor said the bill would apply to public contracts from the state to township level.

The deluge of cards was started by Thaddeus Burford 45, a Carroll County dairy farmer, who made an appeal over his "ham" radio for letters for the sick youngster.

Buford, who has never met Bobby, heard about his illness from his wife. In an effort to cheer up the boy he appealed to his amateur radio friends throughout the world.

The broadcast was made a week ago, and since overseas mail generally takes two or three weeks to get here he'll probably be getting cards from Germany, Japan, Australia and other foreign lands, according to Burford.

More than 600 cards from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Virginia, and New Jersey have arrived so far. Some have been tacked to the walls by Bobby's family. Bobby carries others in paper bags throughout the house.

"The cards are the last things he asks for at night," his mother said," and the first things he wants in the morning."

Higher Pay Ruling Made By Attorney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Appointive state officials can draw the higher salaries voted recently by the Legislature, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled today.

Saxbe said that a constitutional ban against an officer receiving a pay increase during his existing term does not apply to those serving "at the pleasure of the governor" or to hold-overs whose terms expired.

The attorney general held in effect that tenture "at the pleasure of the governor" or after the expiration of the term was not an "existing term" within the meaning of the state constitution.

Rhodes said that as a result of the ruling William C. Bryant could draw the higher salary for the office of state liquor director between Jan. 14 when the Legislature increased the pay of appointive officials and Jan. 20 when Bryant resigned to become an Appellate Court judge.

The legislative increase boosted the liquor director's salary from $12,000 to $18,000 a year. The Legislature also increased salaries of appointive state officials about $6,000 a year.

Voodoo Kit Banned From U. S. Mails

WASHINGTON (AP) – Distributors of a do-it-yourself voodoo kit have promised the Postoffice Department not to offer the kit by mail.

In turn, the department dropped an inquiry into whether Swangren's, of Lombard, Ill., was fraudulently advertising the kit which includes a witch doctor's pouch, straw doll, voodoo needles and "secret incantations."

A department spokesman said attention was drawn to the item by advertisements directed at "the man who has everything," and reading in part:

"No more tiresome trips to the West Indies. You can deliver good or bad hexes right from your own home. The neighbors don't have to know."

The distributor said the kit is "strictly a party gag."

The New York City Visitors and Convention Bureau receives thousands of requests for aid. One was from an out-of-town visitor who received a police summons for staying in Central Park past the midnight curfew.

What Did Highway Council Accomplish in Short Life?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill last week signed a bill, sponsored by his administration, abolishing the Ohio Highway Construction Council

What did the council accomplish du ng its 3½ years of life? Did it help expedite Ohio's road pro gram or did it slow it down?

In asking the Legislature to abolish the council O'Neill said it had accomplished its purpose. It was about that time the council handed O'Neill a 420 million dollar program for major thoroughfares for the next two years.

The council was created by a Republican Legislature to keep an eye on the highway program of a Democratic administration Both the Legislature and administration are Republican now.

The Legislature authorized 500 million dollars in bonds to finance a speeded-up improvement program on main Ohio roads. And the council was instructed to designate a major thoroughfare system and was given the last word on projects on the system.

The council under chairmanship of Clingan Jackson, Youngstown newsman, got to work promptly. After many hearings and meetings with persons from throughout Ohio, it designated 6,200 miles of roads as major thoroughfares. And it gave other classifications to the rest of Ohio's 18,000 miles of roads.

Then began the continuous task of deciding which roads should be improved first and how the work should be financed.

The council worked closely with the Ohio Department of Highways, step by step, working out 316 projects to provide 1,278 miles of improvements to the major thoroughfare system at a cost of 520 million dollars.

By the first of this year all but 43 projects involving 283 miles of road at an estimated cost of 114 million dollars had been placed under contract. These 43 projects will be ready for bids by road-builders by June 30, the council reported to Gov. O'Neill.

This means that many of the highway improvements motorists now enjoy and others that will be made in the next few years resulted from projects approved and given the green light by the council.

The council also has worked out projects for the next two years, approving engineering reports and plans for 87 projects costing 353 million dollars that will be the basis for O'Neill s immediate road program.

That is because those are the only plans that are in the hands of the governor at this time. The governor also has the council's plan to buy 61 million dollars worth of land needed in the future for 111 projects.

Projects for the next two years approved by the council involve 20 traffic bypasses around communities totaling 113 miles, 45 rural projects that would add 230 miles of new roads and 22 city projects involving 24 miles of road.

Some of the rural and city projects fit in with the governor's intention to speed construction of a freeway from Cincinnati to northeastern Ohio.

Since the council was formed the huge federal interstate road program entered the picture. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of improvements to the interstate system which includes 1,300 miles of Ohio roads.

Ohio's major thoroughfare program enabled the state to take immediate advantage of the new federal aid. The Buckeye state now leads the nation in interstate projects under contract.

Ten interstate projects involving 48 million dollars will be ready for bid-taking during the first half of this year, and 71 million dollars in federal interstate funds has been set aside for Ohio for this year, the council told the governor. And Ohio is working on plans for 20 more federal projects that will cost about 200 million dollars.

In the main the council and highway department worked harmoniously. There were some differences of opinion over some individual projects. The main split in their thinking was over how the cost of projects in the big cities should be shared.

The department said cities should pay only 5 per cent, the council insisted on 10 per cent, so more state money would be available for other roads.

The attorney general — now the governor — settled the question by ruling the council had no authority to set the amount for local participation.

Some persons believe the council duplicated work of the highway department, thus slowing down work on projects. Figures show the department contracted for 74 million dollars of road work in 1953. The council was formed late in that year.

In 1954 the figure rose to 115 million dollars, to 197 million dollars in 1955 and to nearly 224 million dollars last year.

Veteran department engineers who worked closely with the council say the Legislature made additional steps in road-building necessary. 'Whenever several groups of persons work on the same thing, some delay results' they said.

Yet they consider the council did "a very good job," and was a "watchdog" over the 500 million dollar state bond issue for roads.

the highway program Department engineers said that resulted in the Legislature having more confidence in the highway program.

The council itself believed its reports to the legislature, various officials and general public "brought highway programming under a widespread public scrutiny and has helped maintain public confidence in the state highway programs." That's the language in the council's final report.

The council also was a buffer between pressure groups wanting specific road improvements and the governor and highway department.

Before the council was established, the department and governor met many times with such groups. When the council was a going concern they could refer visitors to the council with "we can't do anything until the council acts."

And the council met with them, discussing everything from traffic lights and city routing to multi-million dollar superhighways to untangle traffic. This gave the department more time for actual roadbuilding.

The council decided at the beginning not to become a mere rubber stamp of the highway department. Members Jackson, Wilbur M. Cotton and Jesse E. Van Fossen and their executive secretary, Lauren Glosser, visited sites of proposed projects and asked a lot of questions.

Sometimes the answers they got enabled them to change the department's thinking on some projects. They also revisited some projects during various planning stages.

They traveled over every one of the 6,200 miles they placed on the major thoroughfare system and could give driving times between any two points in Ohio.

They put their collective foot down on proposals to spend bond money on road resurfacing jobs, insisting the law intended the money for road reconstruction

They had their programs ready for the Legislature by mid-January, both this year and in 1955. The new administration still is working on a road program for which it will ask the Legislature to appropriate money.

Most of its decisions were final, but there was no question that Jackson directed the council.

There are some who feel the council was abolished too soon They think the council program should be submitted to the Legislature after a study by the governor, and the council should follow through on any changes necessary.

Others feel the proper time to abolish the council was when administrations changed. That's what happened.

Knowland Keeps His Foot in Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Knowland (Calif) has declined to rule out the possibility he might seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

Knowland said in response to questions on the 1960 presidential situation:

"I don't think any person can say in 1957 what the conditions may be in 1960. I neither ruled it in nor ruled it out."

Knowland has announced plans to retire from the Senate at the expiration of his term in January 1959. Told that some view this as step toward seeking the California governorship, then the presidency, Knowland replied:

Non-Collusion Bid Procedure Gets OK

The governor said the bill would apply to public contracts from the state to township level.

Youngstown '5' Due To Enter College Tourney

32 Smaller Outfits To Be Pitted in NAIA Test in Kansas City

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Youngstown leaves Saturday for Kansas City and the 32-team National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament which opens Monday.

Youngstown earned the right to go in a breath-taking District 22 championship game with Steubenville Tuesday night. It wasn't decided until the final five seconds, when freshman Mickey Yugovich arched in the winning free throw to give Youngstown a 59-58 victory.

It was Youngstown's 19th straight on its home floor over the past two seasons and 21st win this season against three losses. The Penguins had to work every minute to do it, though, because one or two points made the difference all the way.

At Buffalo, N. Y., Capital of Columbus couldn't cage the rampaging Bulls of the University of Buffalo, who riddled the Ohioans' zone defense for a 75-64 victory.

In other basketball activity involving Ohio college teams, Baldwin-Wallace made it eight in a row on the home court with a 101-95 win over intra-city rival John Carroll.

Down 17 points, John Carroll cut the margin to a single point with three minutes remaining, but ran out of steam. The game receipts will be used to help pay medical expenses for Richard Kadis, a Cleveland youth injured in September while playing football for Geneva (Pa.) College.

In another Cleveland game, Ohio Wesleyan came back strong in the last two minutes to shock Case Tech 67-65. The Battling Bishops from Delaware, Ohio, tied it up with three seconds left and won it in the final 15 seconds of overtime.

Busby Sharp As Indians Start Prep

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Busby is the talk of the Cleveland Indians' training camp after the first nine inning intra-squad game of the training season Tuesday.

The speedy centerfielder hit a home run, double and two singles in five times at bat.

Last season he batted only .235 in 135 games.

Manager Kerby Farrell is stressing speed and spirit to the Tribe this year and Busby has both.

Gonzales Continues Pro Net Mastery

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pro tennis champion Pancho Gonzales once again demonstrated his superiority over Australia's Ken Rosewall Tuesday night, defeating the Aussie 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

The victory was Gonzales sixth straight and ran his margin over Rosewall on their cross-country tour to 17-7. They play next at St. Louis Thursday night.

Holdoutitis Can Be Severe

Burdette, Coan Firm In Big Loop Demands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and Gil Coan of the Detroit Tigers set a price on their services, man, they mean it.

Burdette, a 19-game winner for the Braves last season, has packed up his family, left camp a Bradenton, Fla., and today was vacationing with friends waiting for the club to make the next move.

Coan was even more emphatic. He has decided to ask Commissioner Ford Frick to place him on the voluntary retired list after failing to reach an agreement with the Tigers after being drafted from Minneapolis of the American Assn.

The Boston Red Sox, too, are having their troubles bringing outfielder Jim Piersall into the fold. But his case isn't quite so serious. He has reported to the Sox camp in Sarasota, Fla., and is in top shape.

Burdette and Coan both appeared bitter over their treatment.

"They can't starve me out," snapped Burdette, the last of the Braves' holdouts. "I don't have to worry about living expenses . . . I'm doing all right selling lots here.

"I had a good season last year and that's the time to strike — when the iron is hot. I'm not going to budge from the figure I want."

Said General Manager Bob Quinn cryptically:

"We have exchanged ideas."

Coan, a 32-year-old outfielder who toiled for the Washington Senators for several years, said he was holding up his letter to Frick until he hears from Johnny McHale, Tiger personnel director.

"If they pay what I asked," he bristled, "I'll play. If they don't, I'm through."

Cincy Eyeing Rookie Hurlers In Warmups

The two, Johnny Oldham and Charley Rabe, showed off their talents Tuesday in batting practice, and Coach Jimmy Dykes said of Oldham:

Oldham, a 6 foot 3, 200-pound Californian, has one strong factor in his favor toward joining the team this season—he's on the national defense list, after returning from military service.

This means the 24-year-old can be carried by the club, yet won't be counted as one of the 25 players the Reds will be limited to after May 15.

Rabe started like a ball of fire in the exhibition season last spring. But he faded early and was sent to the Reds' Havana farm team, where he won two games. Arm trouble developed, and he was shifted to Nashville of the Southern Assn. where he won three more.

Four-Way Cage Championship Poses a Headache

SCO Faces Knotty Problem Wednesday Night

Jubilation over new life given the South Central Ohio (SCO) League will be tempered by a unique problem at the annual spring meeting in Hillsboro Wednesday night.

The meetings of the league ordinarily are more or less routine. Selection of a All-SCO team and the formal naming of a champion usually are the main items of business.

Selection of the All-SCO basketball squad may not be so simple, but the complexities won't hold a candle to those which will confront the meeting when it comes to giving recognition to the cage champion.

FOR THE FIRST time within memory, the basketball race ended in a four-team deadlock with Washington C. H., Wilmington, Circleville and Hillsboro going under the wire in a dead heat with 5-3 records. Greenfield, the fifth team in the league, did not win a league game.

It has been the policy of the SCO for years to give the champion, in all sports, $20 and let the school buy its own trophy. The school could even add to the $20 and get a bigger trophy.

The deadlock for the championship raises two problems: (1) naming of the champion and (2) if the four share the title, where to get the trophy money, since the SCO treasury is never flush.

Spring sports—baseball and track—will be discussed and schedules for both probably will be drawn up.

BUT, HOLDING the center of interest, despite the championship problem, will be expansion plans for the SCO.

Until Saturday, the league appeared to be in its death throes, with Washington C. H. High School on the verge of joining the Mid-Six League.

Then, with two new schools near Columbus accepting invitations to join the SCO, the WHS Athletic Board withdrew its acceptance of the Mid-Six invitation and elected to remain in the old loop.

This brought the old circuit up to seven teams, with indications that it could be expanded to eight within a couple of years.

In view of this sudden change in the athletic picture, it is a foregone conclusion that much of Wednesday night's meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the outlook for enlarged SCO League and the eighth member of the loop, John Trace, principal of Washington C. H. High School and secretary of the SCO, said.

THE MEETING, to be held in Hillsboro High School, will start with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Representatives of all five original members of the SCO and representatives of the newspapers are to be at the meeting.

Principal William S. Rogers of Franklin Heights School and V. J. Ullman, superintendent of the Southwestern Franklin County district, which includes Franklin Heights and the new un-named school now under construction, also will be there. These are the two schools which will join the SCO within the next couple of years, possibly for the 1958 football season.

Grove City also is in the district, but its school is now in the Mid-Six and is expected to remain there, rumors to the contrary.

Championship Golden Gloves Bouts To Be Carried on TV

CHICAGO (AP) — Survivors from an original field of 256 boxers who started out in eliminations at 32 centers tonight swing for titles in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at Chicago Stadium.

Fourteen bouts in all will be crammed into the windup night, including semifinals, as well as finals, in the 112, 118 and 126 pound divisions.

Championship bouts in the 147, 160, lightheavyweight and heavyweight divisions—and possibly in the 135-pound class if time permits—will be nationally televised and broadcast.

Time: 9 p.m., CST, on ABC.

Finals in the three lighter brackets will make up the last part of the program and some of these even may be beamed if time is shortened by a series of knockouts.

Each bout is scheduled for three rounds.

Perhaps the highlight will be a heavyweight scrap between the two best prospects seen for years in the tournament. They are Joe Hemphel of the Rockford, Ill., team, former European service champion while in the Air Force, and Osee Groom of Detroit.

Groom, 22, outweighing his foe 206 to 195 pounds, has the reach advantage and moved into the finals on three technical knockouts last week.

Hemphel, although only 20, has been fighting six years. He also advanced with three TKOs.

Another feature will send Joe Shaw of the Kansas City team against Willie Moran of Louisville in a welterweight brawl. Shaw was on the 1956 U.S. Olympic team at Melbourne.

Other championship bouts include: 135-pounds — Otis Avery, Muncie, Ind., vs. Billy Braggs, Kenosha; 160 —James Schneider, Toledo, Ohio, vs. Walter Turner, Dayton, Ohio; 175 — Ernest Terrell, Chicago, vs. Larry Vignaroli, Des Moines.

Kenosha and Kansas City share the team lead. Each has 13 points compiled in last week's prelims and quarterfinals and each has three boxers remaining in competition.

Campy Claims Podres Pitch Is Excellent

VERO BEACH, Fla (AP) — Roy Campanella banged his bat in the dust and watched his popup float down behind shortstop. He walked out of the batting cage, shaking his head as he announced:

"Man, he's got good motion! Doggone if it don't look like he's throwin' harder than he is."

The pitcher who set off Campy about his change-up was Johnny Podres, the roundish six-foot southpaw hero of Brooklyn's 1955 world championship. He's back after a year with the Navy.

Podres finished his turn on the mound during batting practice, stretched into his jacket and started the long stroll back to the dressing room. "It's hot. I really worked up a sweat," he said.

It was a slow curve that had Campy jumping. "Maybe you could call that a new pitch for me,' said the 24-year-old blond. "I'm working on a change-up off my curve. The rest is the same as before — fast ball, change up off the fast one and a curve. Maybe my curve is better now than it was."

How does it feel, coming back? "I feel fine. I may have a bit of trouble with my control, but I've never been bothered by it before. "I don't know whether my fast ball has stuff. I haven't cut loose yet. But I feel good."

Johnny Logan Booms Milwaukee

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Shortstop Johnny Logan says the Milwaukee Braves are "going to dirty our uniforms this year."

"Last year we weren't serious enough," Logan said Tuesday, "but this time it's going to be different. We'll be ready this time. We'll have to be a fighting ball club.

"We're the team to beat and they'll all be gunning for us, but we've got a solid year under our belts and built up the necessary confidence to go all the way."

Youngstown '5' Due To Enter College Tourney

32 Smaller Outfits To Be Pitted in NAIA Test in Kansas City

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Youngstown leaves Saturday for Kansas City and the 32-team National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament which opens Monday.

That is, if the Penguins catch their collective breath by then.

Youngstown earned the right to go in a breath-taking District 22 championship game with Steubenville Tuesday night. It wasn't decided until the final five seconds, when freshman Mickey Yugovich arched in the winning free throw to give Youngstown a 59-58 victory.

It was Youngstown's 19th straight on its home floor over the past two seasons and 21st win this season against three losses. The Penguins had to work every minute to do it, though, because one or two points made the difference all the way.

Jim Smith, Steubenville's leading scorer, was voted the district tourney's most valuable player.

In the consolation game, Wilmington got some revenge for two losses to Defiance this season by upending the Yellow Jackets 68-54.

At Buffalo, N. Y., Capital of Columbus couldn't cage the rampaging Bulls of the University of Buffalo, who riddled the Ohioans' zone defense for a 75-64 victory.

In other basketball activity involving Ohio college teams, Baldwin-Wallace made it eight in a row on the home court with a 101-95 win over intra-city rival John Carroll.

Down 17 points, John Carroll cut the margin to a single point with three minutes remaining, but ran out of steam. The game receipts will be used to help pay medical expenses for Richard Kadis, a Cleveland youth injured in September while playing football for Geneva (Pa.) College.

In another Cleveland game, Ohio Wesleyan came back strong in the last two minutes to shock Case Tech 67-65. The Battling Bishops from Delaware, Ohio, tied it up with three seconds left and won it in the final 15 seconds of overtime.

Busby Sharp As Indians Start Prep

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Busby is the talk of the Cleveland Indians' training camp after the first nine inning intra-squad game of the training season Tuesday

The speedy centerfielder hit a home run, double and two singles in five times at bat.

Last season he batted only .235 in 135 games.

Manager Kerby Farrell is stressing speed and spirit to the Tribe this year and Busby has both.

Al Smith is another top candidate for the centerfield spot.

As the Tribe got down to serious training, at least half a dozen players came up with sore arms and pulled muscles.

Holdoutitis Can Be Severe

Burdette, Coan Firm In Big Loop Demands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and Gil Coan of the Detroit Tigers set a price on their services, man, they mean it.

Burdette, a 19-game winner for the Braves last season, has packed up his family, left camp a Bradenton, Fla., and today was vacationing with friends waiting for the club to make the next move.

Coan was even more emphatic. He has decided to ask Commissioner Ford Frick to place him on the voluntary retired list after failing to reach an agreement with the Tigers after being drafted from Minneapolis of the American Assn.

The Boston Red Sox, too, are having their troubles bringing outfielder Jim Piersall into the fold. But his case isn't quite so serious. He has reported to the Sox camp in Sarasota, Fla., and is in top shape.

Burdette and Coan both appeared bitter over their treatment.

"They can't starve me out," snapped Burdette, the last of the Braves' holdouts. "I don't have to worry about living expenses . . . I'm doing all right selling lots here.

"I had a good season last year and that's the time to strike — when the iron is hot. I'm not going to budge from the figure I want."

Said General Manager Bob Quinn cryptically:

"We have exchanged ideas."

Coan, a 32-year-old outfielder who toiled for the Washington Senators for several years, said he was holding up his letter to Frick until he hears from Johnny McHale, Tiger personnel director.

"If they pay what I asked," he bristled, "I'll play. If they don't, I'm through."

Cincy Eyeing Rookie Hurlers In Warmups

The two, Johnny Oldham and Charley Rabe, showed off their talents Tuesday in batting practice, and Coach Jimmy Dykes said of Oldham:

Oldham, a 6 foot 3, 200-pound Californian, has one strong factor in his favor toward joining the team this season—he's on the national defense list, after returning from military service.

This means the 24-year-old can be carried by the club, yet won't be counted as one of the 25 players the Reds will be limited to after May 15.

Rabe started like a ball of fire in the exhibition season last spring. But he faded early and was sent to the Reds' Havana farm team, where he won two games. Arm trouble developed, and he was shifted to Nashville of the Southern Assn. where he won three more.

Four-Way Cage Championship Poses a Headache

SCO Faces Knotty Problem Wednesday Night

Jubilation over new life given the South Central Ohio (SCO) League will be tempered by a unique problem at the annual spring meeting in Hillsboro Wednesday night.

The meetings of the league ordinarily are more or less routine. Selection of a All-SCO team and the formal naming of a champion usually are the main items of business.

Selection of the All-SCO basketball squad may not be so simple, but the complexities won't hold a candle to those which will confront the meeting when it comes to giving recognition to the cage champion.

FOR THE FIRST time within memory, the basketball race ended in a four-team deadlock with Washington C. H., Wilmington, Circleville and Hillsboro going under the wire in a dead heat with 5-3 records. Greenfield, the fifth team in the league, did not win a league game.

It has been the policy of the SCO for years to give the champion, in all sports, $20 and let the school buy its own trophy. The school could even add to the $20 and get a bigger trophy.

The deadlock for the championship raises two problems: (1) naming of the champion and (2) if the four share the title, where to get the trophy money, since the SCO treasury is never flush.

Spring sports—baseball and track—will be discussed and schedules for both probably will be drawn up.

BUT, HOLDING the center of interest, despite the championship problem, will be expansion plans for the SCO.

Until Saturday, the league appeared to be in its death throes, with Washington C. H. High School on the verge of joining the Mid-Six League.

Then, with two new schools near Columbus accepting invitations to join the SCO, the WHS Athletic Board withdrew its acceptance of the Mid-Six invitation and elected to remain in the old loop.

This brought the old circuit up to seven teams, with indications that it could be expanded to eight within a couple of years.

In view of this sudden change in the athletic picture, it is a foregone conclusion that much of Wednesday night's meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the outlook for enlarged SCO League and the eighth member of the loop, John Trace, principal of Washington C. H. High School and secretary of the SCO, said.

THE MEETING, to be held in Hillsboro High School, will start with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Representatives of all five original members of the SCO and representatives of the newspapers are to be at the meeting.

Principal William S. Rogers of Franklin Heights School and V. J. Ullman, superintendent of the Southwestern Franklin County district, which includes Franklin Heights and the new un-named school now under construction, also will be there. These are the two schools which will join the SCO within the next couple of years, possibly for the 1958 football season.

Grove City also is in the district, but its school is now in the Mid-Six and is expected to remain there, rumors to the contrary.

Championship Golden Gloves Bouts To Be Carried on TV

CHICAGO (AP) — Survivors from an original field of 256 boxers who started out in eliminations at 32 centers tonight swing for titles in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at Chicago Stadium.

Fourteen bouts in all will be crammed into the windup night, including semifinals, as well as finals, in the 112, 118 and 126 pound divisions.

Championship bouts in the 147, 160, lightheavyweight and heavyweight divisions—and possibly in the 135-pound class if time permits—will be nationally televised and broadcast.

Time: 9 p.m., CST, on ABC.

Finals in the three lighter brackets will make up the last part of the program and some of these even may be beamed if time is shortened by a series of knockouts.

Each bout is scheduled for three rounds.

Perhaps the highlight will be a heavyweight scrap between the two best prospects seen for years in the tournament. They are Joe Hemphel of the Rockford, Ill., team, former European service champion while in the Air Force, and Osee Groom of Detroit.

Groom, 22, outweighing his foe 206 to 195 pounds, has the reach advantage and moved into the finals on three technical knockouts last week.

Hemphel, although only 20, has been fighting six years. He also advanced with three TKOs.

Other championship bouts include: 135-pounds — Otis Avery, Muncie, Ind., vs. Billy Braggs, Kenosha; 160 —James Schneider, Toledo, Ohio, vs. Walter Turner, Dayton, Ohio; 175 — Ernest Terrell, Chicago, vs. Larry Vignaroli, Des Moines.

Kenosha and Kansas City share the team lead. Each has 13 points compiled in last week's prelims and quarterfinals and each has three boxers remaining in competition.

Campy Claims Podres Pitch Is Excellent

VERO BEACH, Fla (AP) — Roy Camparella banged his bat in the dust and watched his popup float down behind shortstop. He walked out of the batting cage, shaking his head as he announced:

"Man, he's got good motion! Doggone if it don't look like he's throwin' harder than he is."

The pitcher who set off Campy about his change-up was Johnny Podres, the roundish six-foot southpaw hero of Brooklyn's 1955 world championship. He's back after a year with the Navy.

Podres finished his turn on the mound during batting practice, stretched into his jacket and started the long stroll back to the dressing room. "It's hot. I really worked up a sweat," he said

It was a slow curve that had Campy jumping. "Maybe you could call that a new pitch for me,' said the 24-year-old blond. "I'm working on a change-up off my curve. The rest is the same as before — fast ball, change up off the fast one and a curve Maybe my curve is better now than it was."

How does it feel, coming back? "I feel fine. I may have a bit of trouble with my control, but I've never been bothered by it before.

"I don't know whether my fast ball has stuff. I haven't cut loose yet. But I feel good."

Johnny Logan Booms Milwaukee

"Last year we weren't serious enough," Logan said Tuesday, "but this time it's going to be different. We'll be ready this time. We'll have to be a fighting ball club.

"We're the team to beat and they'll all be gunning for us, but we've got a solid year under our belts and built up the necessary confidence to go all the way."

Plan Under Study For Addition to Cambridge Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, acting director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, today announced a plan designed to assure construction of a 120-bed reception and intensive therapy building at Cambridge State Hospital.

Dr. Albrecht said construction bids for the project exceeded available funds by more than $170,000. He said the department is meeting the problem by accepting lower-cost alternates and by approving transfer of $120,000 in surplus funds from another project.

He said the transfer of funds must meet the approval of the State Controlling Board.

Cambridge State Hospital serves Coshocton, Muskingum, Guernsey, Noble, Harrison, Jefferson, Belmont and Monroe counties.

Lake Erie Water Piping OK Urged

AKRON (AP) — James H. Byrne, executive secretary of the Lake Erie Watershed Conservation Foundation, is certain that Lake Erie water will have to be piped inland someday. That, he says, is why he is urging quick legislative action to make it possible to pipe the water into northeastern Ohio.

Byrne and A. H. Dunton, an engineer for the Stanley Engineering Co., gave details on a plan to provide water for industrial and population growth.

The plan compiled by the Stanley firm involves expenditures of $200,520,000 from now until 2000 to bring as much as 990 million gallons of water a day to the area, and at a cost estimated at $77.80 per million gallons.

2 Cleveland Cops Awaiting Hearing

CLEVELAND (AP)—A hearing will be held Friday for two patrolmen on departmental charges growing out of an altercation with two other men who later were acquitted of assault and battery charges.

The white patrolmen, Peter Hotz and Edward Shaniuk, were off duty Dec. 10 when, they said, two Negroes, Robert Barbee and Army Sgt. Herman Humphries, attacked them as they left a bar.

The two Negroes were acquitted of assault and battery charges by a municipal court jury. They said the officers provoked the trouble in the tavern, then slugged them outside and at Central Police Station.

Pony Football Rules Drafted

Another Director Named by Boosters

Eddie Mitchell has been named by the Boosters Club to fill a vacancy on the board of directors of the Pony Football League, it was announced at a league directors' meeting Tuesday night.

Mitchell was named by the Boosters to replace Emery (Slim) Lynch, who was elected secretary by the league convention, thus disqualifying himself from sitting as a Booster delegate.

Membership on the board includes two delegates named by the Boosters, three officers elected by the general public in convention, the head football coach at Washington C. H. High School (in this case, Fred Domenico), and the WHS athletic director (in this case, Clyde Cramer).

* * *

BESIDES Domenico, Lynch and Cramer, other members of the board are Dr. Charles Griffiths, president; H. S. (Bud) Stemple, vice-presidnet; both appointed by convention, and Mac Dews, Jr., appointed by the Boosters.

A constitution was drawn up and finances were discussed at the meeting.

Applications for coaching jobs are still being taken, it was announced. They must be in writing and must include the applicant's name, address, occupation and previous football experience.

Ten coaches will be appointed in all—five head coaches and five assistants. Directors will name the coaches as soon as they have 10 satisfactory applications. Applications may be submitted to any to the three officers or to Domenico.

Irish Election Results Hint Close Race

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—First returns today in the Irish general election indicated a neck and neck race between Eamon de Valera and John A. Costello.

A West Donegal district 1 of 40 throughout the republic — sent the same two men back to the Irish Parliament.

Three years ago the 74-year-old De Valera fell short of gaining a majority in the 147-member Dail (parliament). He needs to pick up seats to again become prime minister.

The coalition administration of the 65-year-old Costello, of the Fine Gael party, collapsed last month and he dissolved parliament. One man out of every 10 in the republic is on the dole and the coalition broke down over unemployment policy.

About 1,200,000 voters went to the polls Tuesday, approximately 70 per cent of the electorate. The counting of ballots was expected to be slow because of a proportional representation system.

The pro-Sinn Fein party, which favors force if necessary to unite the republic with the six northern countries still in the British United Kingdom, has only 19 candidates in the running. But it could be the deciding factor.

Indonesian Government Said Split

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno and the head of his army, Maj. Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, were reported in serious disagreement today over Sukarno's plan to take Communists into the government and institute a "guided democracy."

A high - ranking army officer who attended secret meetings between Sukarno and Nasution disclosed that Nasution voiced opposition to the plan.

Officers and units of the army have revolted in scattered parts of Indonesia, but Nasution himself has been regarded as loyal to Sukarno.

The reported rift may point up just how serious and widespread has become the opposition to bringing Communists into the government.

The source quoted Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual, leader of the bloodless army coup in East Indonesia, as "preferring to cooperate with American imperialists rather than Communists."

Sumual fears "that this country would be led into the hand of the Kremlin," the source said.

"We may not be involved in politics but we have the right to object if this country will become a dictatorship for the Communists," Sumual said.

Power Purchase Plan To Be Offered To Sabina Council

SABINA — The Board of Public Affairs has reached an agreement to present to the Sabina Council at its Friday night meeting a plan for the village to purchase power from the Dayton Power & Light Co., Donald Anderson, a member of the board, revealed today.

John Petty, a member of the Citizens Committee supporting council in its plan to sell the municipally owned power and water systems, was invited to the board meeting to discuss the power purchase with it.

Anderson said the plan was the same as that presented to council two years ago and which was turned down.

The Citizens Committee, at its meeting earlier this week, passed this resolution to clarify the committee's purpose: "The committee resolves to negotiate through legal, peaceful means, without rancor, to accomplish one purpose: that of informing the citizens of Sabina in a concise, forthright manner the reasons we favor the sale of the power and light systems of Sabina."

Faye Williams gave the secretary's report and Karen Woodmansee the treasurer's report. Faye also served refreshments.

Essays of Two WHS Students Among Legion District Winners

Of the eight district winners in the American Legion essay contest for high school students, two are from Washington C. H.

Essays written by Paula Slagle, 428 E. Market St., a freshman and Ron Coffman, 727 Yeoman St., a sophomore, have now been forwarded to the state headquarters of the Legion in Columbus for judging with 110 others from all over the state.

They were judged the best submitted by a freshman girl and sophomore boy in this eight-county seventh Legion district, which covers south central Ohio.

The contest was open to a boy and a girl in each of the four high school classes. The subject was: "Patriotism in Modern America".

The contest started on the county level, then went to the district and finally the state.

The county winners were all entered in the district contest by the Paul H. Hughey post of the Legion. There are 25 Legion posts in the district.

The 12 winners in the state competition will get an all - expense trip to Washington, D. C. They will be announced late this month.

Expansion of Court Offices Under Way

Remodeling of the City Hall-Fire Department buildings to give additional space to overcrowded Municipal Court offices is under way.

The project approved by City Council, provides for cutting through the brick wall northward from the present Municipal Court office into what formerly was the office of Fire Chief George Hall.

Hall's new office will be adjacent to the new court office, a part of an unused portion of firemen's sleeping quarters.

The additional space made available by the improvement will be used for court records in addition to providing office facilities for Municipal Judge Max G. Dice.

Another Director Named by Boosters

Eddie Mitchell has been named by the Boosters Club to fill a vacancy on the board of directors of the Pony Football League, it was announced at a league directors' meeting Tuesday night.

Mitchell was named by the Boosters to replace Emery (Slim) Lynch, who was elected secretary by the league convention, thus disqualifying himself from sitting as a Booster delegate.

Membership on the board includes two delegates named by the Boosters, three officers elected by the general public in convention, the head football coach at Washington C. H. High School (in this case, Fred Domenico), and the WHS athletic director (in this case, Clyde Cramer).

BESIDES Domenico, Lynch and Cramer, other members of the board are Dr. Charles Griffiths, president; H. S. (Bud) Stemple, vice-presidnet; both appointed by convention, and Mac Dews, Jr., appointed by the Boosters.

A constitution was drawn up and finances were discussed at the meeting.

Applications for coaching jobs are still being taken, it was announced. They must be in writing and must include the applicant's name, address, occupation and previous football experience.

Ten coaches will be appointed in all—five head coaches and five assistants. Directors will name the coaches as soon as they have 10 satisfactory applications. Applications may be submitted to any to the three officers or to Domenico.

Irish Election Results Hint Close Race

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—First returns today in the Irish general election indicated a neck and neck race between Eamon de Valera and John A. Costello.

A West Donegal district 1 of 40 throughout the republic — sent the same two men back to the Irish Parliament.

Three years ago the 74-year-old De Valera fell short of gaining a majority in the 147-member Dail (parliament). He needs to pick up seats to again become prime minister.

Remodeling of the City Hall-Fire Department buildings to give additional space to overcrowded Municipal Court offices is under way.

The project approved by City Council, provides for cutting through the brick wall northward from the present Municipal Court office into what formerly was the office of Fire Chief George Hall.

Hall's new office will be adjacent to the new court office, a part of an unused portion of firemen's sleeping quarters.

The additional space made available by the improvement will be used for court records in addition to providing office facilities for Municipal Judge Max G. Dice.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I seldom go out on a limb to personally endorse a movie . . .
BUT once in a while an outstanding picture is produced that I feel deserves my unreserved recommendation.
"Battle Hymn" is one of those magnificent pieces of entertainment which I think you will thank me for calling to your attention . . . .
Yes, I personally guarantee this as a film you'll long remember!
